More than 1,300 high school students, boys and girls, and a sprinkling of elementary school pupils, converged on Gettysburg Saturday for the fourth annual Elks National Youth Day.

In buses and private cars the students, selected and financed by Elks lodges from 65 cities in Pennsylvania, started arriving shortly after eight o'clock and at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon the first conveyance started homeward.

During the interim the students toured the Battlefield, were served lunch in the high school cafeteria, attended an "Americanism" meeting at which Maj. Gen. Richard M. Montgomery, assistant vice chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force was given a rising ovation before and after he spoke on the privilege and pleasure it is to live in a free and powerful country, and attended a record hop.

At the conclusion of his address (it is published in full elsewhere in this edition) he presented an American flag that had been flown over the U. S. Capitol dome, to the Pennsylvania Elks State Association, a gift of General Curtis LeMay, Air Force chief of staff. The flag was accepted by Edgar B. Herwick, Frackville, state president, who said that it will be flown at the next and all subsequent state conventions of the Elks.

they were interested and sometimes they brought children with them. We had a member of men upstuffs but they weren't very good at handling babies. So we decided to appoint a matron for the court, something this court had never had before.

"Mrs. Bollinger was named as the first matron and she has continued in that post ever since. She has been extremely valuable to everyone who came here and to this court. Seventy-seven members of the Chicago Civil War Round Table ended their second visit to Gettysburg Sunday and voted the 1962 tour, their 12th annual, as the best in their history.

They arrived Wednesday night and spent Thursday and Friday studying the Gettysburg campaign. On Saturday they went to Harper's Ferry and Antietam. Following church services on Sunday, one bus load visited South Mountain and Crampton's Gap to hear the stories of those engagements while the second bus load went to the Visitor Center for an illustrated lecture and summation.

While here the visitors were guests at the Hotel Gettysburg. Brief battle discussions followed the dinner there Thursday night. Following the banquet Friday night, also held at the Hotel Gettysburg, a program entitled "Antietam-Free-for-All" was conducted with E. B. "Pete" Long as moderator and Gen. Edward J. ## Kennedy Asks An Economy Kept Stable By The Free Forces Of U.S. Competition

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told the United States Chamber of Commerce today he wants to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government will not need to intervene in the price-setting process.

The President delivered to the chamber's 50th annual meeting a sober appeal for cooperation among business, labor and government. He said this would keep the economy stable, protect the dollar, and expand foreign commerce.

"These areas where conflict exists between private interests and government interest must be met by all of us who care for our country," Kennedy said.

"DON'T SET PRICES"

In his first speech to any business organization since he forced the steel industry to withdraw its April price increase — a move widely criticized in industry — Kennedy assured the 4,000 businessmen-delegates and their guests: "We do not seek to set prices."

Instead, he said, the government is trying to develop a climate in which there is cooperation of the several segments of the economy, and in which the free forces of competition will serve to prevent inflation from damaging the dollar and inflating prices to consumers.

GIVEN OVATION

Kennedy was greeted with a rising ovation as he entered Constitution Hall, but many of the delegates did not join in the applause. But he quickly produced laughter with an observation that he was pleased to see that the chamber had chosen for its new president a man from Massachusetts.

Then he added with a smile: "I don't know how widely that view is shared here."

Kennedy complimented the chamber on its 50 years of service, declaring that the establishment of the chamber in 1912 was

Inaugurate Dr. C. A. Hanson As 10th Gettysburg College President Here On Saturday

Address By Dr. Hanson At Inauguration

The following is the complete text of the address delivered by Dr. Carl A. Hanson at his inauguration as the tenth president of Gettysburg College Saturday afternoon:

These proceedings, in which representatives of sister institutions and learned societies have joined with faculty and friends of Gettysburg College, are institutional and only incidentally personal. This event is a moment in a continuum of time and activity which had its beginning in 1832 and now carries forward from this day. It is an observance, the benefit of which derives from the examination of the past in order to arrive at an estimate of the future. It is also a time for recommitment to that which continues and the gathering of reason and courage for the meeting of 'that which lies ahead.'

Gettysburg College, founded as the Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, gained its initial and continuing character from the mind of its principal founder, Samuel Simon Schmucker. A Lutheran minister, as remarkable in accomplishments as in name, this was the driving force necessary in bringing together the auspices of a community, a church, and the Commonwealth in the establishment of this college.

MOLDED INFLUENCE

As the author of the Charter, the first professor, and an original patron, he provided a mold of influence which in large measure still remains. It was this man's effort which resulted in the determination that, though the college would reflect the influence of the church, its instruction would be unsectarian. And it was this man who posed as the task of the college that it should "exert a salutary influence in advancing the cause of liberal education." Few institutions of higher learning, then or now, can contemplate a purpose as simply phrased or as delicately poised between ambition and honesty. The courage, vision, and sincere modesty reflected in the words of this man have remained in the fiber of this institution. Now, in a

Missing Woman Is Located Today

Biglerville Policeman Roy Kuykendall this morning located Miss Chinary McColliers, 30, negro, of Orlando, Fla., at the request of borough police after Miss McColliers' sister, Mrs. Della McClendon, Philadelphia, had sought police help.

Mrs. McClendon told borough police Sunday morning that her sister had left Orlando, Fla., a week ago in company of a white woman for Biglerville R. D. Later Mrs. McClendon received a letter from her sister stating she was in the Biglerville area and that the white woman had left and she needed help. The sister wired $15 for bus fare. When Miss McColliers did not pick up the money, Mrs. McClendon became worried and asked police assistance to locate the young woman. Borough police notified state police and Biglerville officers and this morning Biglerville police brought her to Gettysburg and local police saw her onto a bus to Philadelphia.

Dr. Carl Arnold Hanson, who came to Gettysburg last September 1 from the position of dean of the faculty at Cornell University, was inaugurated Saturday afternoon as the 10th president of Gettysburg College.

The inaugural ceremony was held in Christ Chapel on the campus after an academic procession from Breidenbaugh Science Hall in which more than 100 representatives of colleges and universities, learned societies, the Lutheran Church, the state and the community participated.

Dr. Hanson in a 20-minute inaugural accepted "the challenge and honor."

APPLE PRESIDES

He said in a reference to the long history of the college that the "mold of influence" of the founder "in large measure still remains." He cited the task set by its founder, Dr. Samuel Simon Schmucker, for the college "to exert a salutary influence in advancing the cause of liberal education."

He continued: "Ours is an able faculty and we attract a student body of increasing promise." He also made reference to the Christian background of the college and its close ties with the Lutheran Church and "to the religious program which is voluntary in nature but as vigorous and as compelling as any of our academic responsibilities."

The act of induction of the new president was performed by John A. Apple, chairman of the college board of trustees, who presided over the inaugural ceremonies.

BRIEF, IMPRESSIVE

The brief but impressive program which did not exceed 40 minutes opened with an organ prelude by Mrs. John F. Schwartz and then the hymn "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" was used as the processional march for the long capped and gownned column that occupied a reserved section of the chapel.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church and an alumnus of the college.

The College Choir sang two selections, "Salvation" and "Praise Ye," under the direction of Paul G. Peterson. The act of induction in which Chairman Apple presented the charter of office to Dr. Hanson followed and he inaugurated address followed as the new president's response to that presentation.

SYMPOSIUM, LUNCHEON

The audience rose and sang the "Alma Mater" and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. D. J. Frank Fife, president of the Maryland Lutheran Synod. Then the academic procession filed out of the chapel as the

PORTRAITS OF TWO JURISTS GIVEN SCHOOL

MECHANICSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court has called on attorneys to take a greater interest in the selection of judicial candidates.

"The bar itself must share some of the responsibility for the character and quality of our judges," Justice Benjamin R. Jones told the Dickinson Law School alumni dinner Saturday night.

The dinner was in honor of former Chief Justice Charles Alvin Jones and Adams County Judge W. C. Sheely, two graduates of the law school.

Portraits of the former chief justice and Judge Sheely were presented to the law school.

"If the bar took a more active interest in judicial selection, such selection would be limited to lawyers of experience, integrity and ability and we would have a better judiciary," Justice Jones said.

"I am convinced that no judge can withstand the disapproval of a united bar insisting on a higher quality of judicial performance," he added.

CAUTIOUS COLLEAGUES

Justice Jones also cautioned his colleagues from participating in any activities which could lead the public to believe their official position has been jeopardized.

"Not only must a judge be honest in his deliberations and determinations, upright in his conduct and impartial at all times, but he must give the appearance of being so."

"Nothing destroys public confidence in the administration of justice more than a judge whose conduct gives the appearance of venality, partiality, unfairness or lack of fidelity to the obligations of the judicial oath."

He said he will leave June 15 to organize a new congregation at Cocoa Beach, Fla., in the area adjacent to Cape Canaveral.

The Rev. Mr. Serbe went to Harrisburg from the Lutheran Charge at Bellwood, near Altoona, where he served Grace and Salem Lutheran Churches.

The Rev. Mr. Serbe, a native of Washington, D. C., served in the Navy from 1942 until 1946. He was graduated from George Washington University in 1948 and from the local Lutheran Seminary. He was ordained in 1951.

TWO DOCTORS ARE HONORED BY PHYSICIANS

The Adams County Medical Society honored Dr. Byron C. Jones, Bendersville, and Dr. Edgar A. Miller at a dinner in the Hotel Gettysburg Sunday evening, upon their completion of 50 years in the practice of medicine. Dr. Raymond H. Hale, president, presided, and Dr. Roy W. Gifford presented plaques from the Pennsylvania Medical Society to Dr. Miller and to Mrs. Jones in her husband's absence. Dr. Gifford also gave a brief summary of the medical service of the two men.

Dr. Jones graduated from the Eclectic Medical College at Cincinnati in 1912. He interned at Bethlehem where he practiced until coming to Bendersville about 38 years ago.

SERVED IN WAR

Dr. Miller served in World Wars I and II. He graduated in 1912 from Johns Hopkins and started the practice of medicine in East Berlin. He left there to join the British Medical Forces in World War I and later came to Gettysburg where he practiced until World War II when he went into the service again. Following that he was employed on the medical staff of the Coatesville Veterans Hospital until he retired in 1956.

Dr. Jones' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hollabaugh, Biglerville, were guests at the dinner, as were Mrs. Miller and Dr. Miller's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Miller Jr.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff showed a film "Our Modern Hospital" taken 30 years ago and other medical pictures of by-gone years.

Forty-four doctors and wives were present at the dinner.

ROUND TABLE GROUP CLOSES ANNUAL TOUR

Seventy-seven members of the Chicago Civil War Round Table ended their second visit to Gettysburg Sunday and voted the 1962 tour, their 12th annual, as the best in their history.

Though some of the members arrived by automobile, the majority flew from Chicago to Washington and then came to Gettysburg in two large buses. They arrived Wednesday night and spent Thursday and Friday studying the Gettysburg campaign. On Saturday they went to Harper's Ferry and Antietam. Following church services on Sunday, one bus load visited South Mountain and Crampton's Gap to hear the stories of those engagements while the second bus load went to the Visitor Center for an illustrated lecture and summation.

While here the visitors were guests at the Hotel Gettysburg. Brief battle discussions followed the dinner there Thursday night. Following the banquet Friday night, also held at the Hotel Gettysburg, a program entitled "Antietam-Free-for-All" was conducted with E. B. "Pete" Long as moderator and Gen. Edward J. Stackpole and Gen. Willard Webb, both prominent historians and authors, and Lloyd Miller, Chicago member, as panelists.

HOLD LUNCHEONS

Luncheons on Thursday and Friday were served at the Dutch Cupboard and at the Lamp Post tea room. Following the visit to Antietam Saturday, the party held a dinner and "Fun Night" at the Francis Scott Key Hotel, Frederick, with a program devoted to informal speaking and presentations.

Kennedy Asks An Economy Kept Stable By The Free Forces Of U.S. Competition

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told the United States Chamber of Commerce today he wants to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government will not need to intervene in the price-setting process.

The President delivered to the chamber's 50th annual meeting a sober appeal for cooperation among business, labor and government. He said this would keep the economy stable, protect the dollar, and expand foreign commerce.

"These areas where conflict exists between private interests and government interest must be met by all of us who care for our country," Kennedy said.

In his first speech to any business organization since he forced the steel industry to withdraw its April price increase — a move widely criticized in industry — Kennedy assured the 4,000 business delegates and their guests: "We do not seek to set prices."

Instead, he said, the government is trying to develop a climate in which there is cooperation of the several segments of the economy, and in which the free forces of competition will serve to prevent inflation from damaging the dollar and inflating prices to consumers.

GIVEN OVATION

Kennedy was greeted with a rising ovation as he entered Constitution Hall, but many of the delegates did not join in the applause. But he quickly produced laughter with an observation that he was pleased to see that the chamber had chosen for its new president a man from Massachusetts.

Inaugurate Dr. C. A. Hanson As 10th Gettysburg College President Here On Saturday

Address By Dr. Hanson At Inauguration

The following is the complete text of the address delivered by Dr. Carl A. Hanson at his inauguration as the tenth president of Gettysburg College Saturday afternoon:

These proceedings, in which representatives of sister institutions and learned societies have joined with faculty and friends of Gettysburg College, are institutional and only incidentally personal. This event is a moment in a continuum of time and activity which had its beginning in 1832 and now carries forward from this day. It is an observance, the benefit of which derives from the examination of the past in order to arrive at an estimate of the future. It is also a time for commitment to that which continues and the gathering of reason and courage for the meeting of that which lies ahead.

Gettysburg College, founded as the Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, gained its initial and continuing character from the mind of its principal founder, Samuel Simon Schmucker, a Lutheran minister, as remarkable in accomplishments as in name, his was the driving force necessary in bringing together the auspices of a community, a church, and the Commonwealth in the establishment of this college.

As the author of the Charter, the first professor, and an original patron, he provided a mold of influence which in large measure still remains. It was this man's effort which resulted in the determination that, though the college would reflect the influence of the church, its instruction would be unsectarian. And it was this man who posed as the task of the college that it should "exert a salutary influence in advancing the cause of liberal education." Few institutions of higher learning, then or now, can contemplate a purpose as simply phrased or as delicately poised between ambition and honesty.

The courage, vision, and sincere modesty reflected in the words of this man have remained in the fiber of this institution. Now, in a

Missing Woman Is Located Today

Biglerville Policeman Roy Kuykendall this morning located Miss Chinary McCollars, 30, negro, of Orlando, Fla., at the request of borough police after Miss McCollars' sister, Mrs. Della McCollard, Philadelphia, had sought police help.

Mrs. McCollard told borough police Sunday morning that her sister had left Orlando, Fla., a week ago in company of a white woman from Biglerville R. D. Later Mrs. McCollard received a letter from her sister stating she was in the Biglerville area and that the white woman had left and she needed help. The sister wired $15 for bus fare. When Miss McCollars did not pick up the money, Mrs. McCollard became worried and asked police assistance to locate the young woman.

Borough police notified state police and Biglerville officers and this morning Biglerville police brought her to Gettysburg and local police saw her onto a bus to Philadelphia.

Dr. Hanson in a 20-minute inaugural accepted "the challenge and honor."

APPLE PRESIDES

He said in a reference to the long history of the college that the "mold of influence" of the founder "in large measure still remains." He cited the task set by its founder, Dr. Samuel Simon Schmucker, for the college "to exert a salutary influence in advancing the cause of liberal education."

He continued: "Ours is an able faculty and we attract a student body of increasing promise." He also made reference to the Christian background of the college and

KENNEDY HAS COURT MATRON TASK KEEPING ON GOOD SIDE OF BUSINESS

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's pains to assure industrialists he isn't antibusiness seems sure to become an uphill task.

That is because of government's expanding role in the monitoring of business decisions—whether on wages or prices or profits. It has been growing for some time but took a big step forward in the administration's pressure to get steel companies to rescind their price increase.

A large portion of businessmen think that anyone championing further invasion of what they regard as their right to make their own decisions is bound to be anti-business, no matter what he may say about acting only in the public interest.

HARD TIME WITH LABOR

And when the government's policy involves labor, as in campaigns against inflationary wage increases or labor practices, the President may have a hard time with many union leaders.

The turmoil was dramatized by President Kennedy's appearance before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. That group naturally stands for industry's traditional rights. The President appeared as a champion of a New Industrial Frontier.

But behind all the current furor, some economists in and out of business circles see a new trend emerging — or at least solidifying.

They say the public interest, whatever that is interpreted to mean from time to time, is likely to play an ever larger role. They see the problem for business as one of keeping such intervention in bounds, rather than trying to reverse it.

POLITICS IS PART

Politics plays a role, they concede. But they argue that regardless of party, government's role is changing from that it played in the early postwar years, and even through the 1950s.

And the change is tied in with the way you as a consumer acted then and act now.

In the earlier years, labor and management could slug it out, raise wages and then hike prices. You paid the higher prices because your postwar demand for goods was great—and you tried to counter the higher prices by hitting the boss for a raise.

But now many sectors of industry have more capacity to produce than your demand for goods can keep busy. Foreign production has increased at even a faster rate—and if you don't like American prices you often have a chance to buy foreign goods for less.

DOESN'T WORK WELL

That's why the wage-price spiral doesn't work so well these days, many economists point out.

The businessman's reply to this argument is that supply and demand will set the prices if government keeps hands off, and that in any case it's better for labor and management to fight it out than for the federal government to set up any kind of price and wage controls, however informal.

Labor's reply to the public interest argument is that its wage demands are within reason and needn't mean higher prices if management isn't too greedy for profits.

It's going to be quite a fight—and neither the President nor the U.S. Chamber of Commerce can be sure of victory on the basis of today's skirmish.

school officials to the school program and said he believes that contacts made now will result in a major effort on the part of schools to assist during "the centennial year."

Henry M. Scharf, treasurer of the association, said $832 was received from schools during March. He added "the fact that these schools are in scattered areas indicates that the program is taking hold generally."

OTHER DONATIONS

William Township Elementary School at Easton, raised $225. "But even more indicative of the wide interest of school children in Gettysburg is the receipt of $150 each from the Mulberry School in Whittier, Calif., and the Hudtloff Junior High School at Tacoma, Wash. Robinson Junior High School, Wichita, Kan., sent $104. Other schools sending sums ranging from $1 to $32 were in New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, Vermont, Maryland, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Alabama and California, as well as Pennsylvania. The wide distribution of the schools gives much hope for the future."

Organizations continued to send in amounts, among them the Sons of Union Veterans of San Jose, Calif.; Ladies of the GAR in Missouri and Iowa, an Amvets Post in Ohio. The Fourth Michigan Volunteers of Dundee, Mich., sent $30 and the Fourth Michigan Volunteers of Maybee, Mich., sent $2.

Scharf said the association received "during the last month a contribution from what is probably the most distant contributor, The American Civil War Research Group of Australia sent $7."

a turning point in the relationship of government with industry.

"TURNING POINT"

There was more laughter when he added "And some say the events of this April also marked a turning point." From that reference to the steel-price battle, Kennedy went on to observe that he hoped this April would indeed have been a turning point in the sense that it may have awakened wider knowledge of the necessity for understanding between business, government and labor.

Even though the cheers from chambers of commerce around the country were not overwhelming or deafening when he was elected, Kennedy said, he has been impressed with the cooperation given by business groups ever since when the country has become involved in crisis.

Many Visit Model Home At Twin Oaks

The open house Saturday and Sunday in the model home at Twin Oaks was largely attended as many called to inspect the "Valley Forge" model home on display there as advertised in Life magazine by 100 builders throughout the country. The home was built by John E. Snyder.

A swivel rocker given as a door prize was won by Robert Shealer, 253 E. Middle St., and a set of lamps for end tables went to Mrs. J. Edmond Smith, 118 Hanover St.

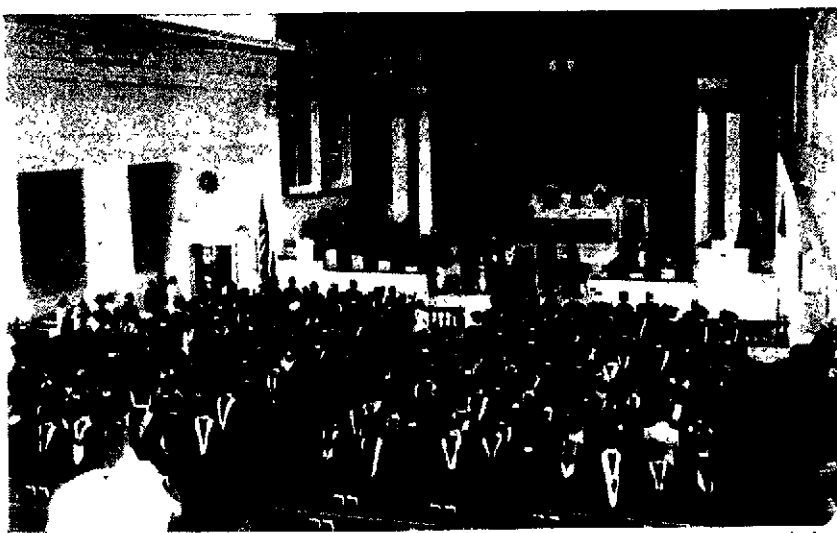

Floral arrangements for the open house were by the Twin Bridges Farm and the fireplace equipment was by Gettysburg Hardware. These two participants in the open house plans were inadvertently omitted from a display advertisement appearing in The Gettysburg Times last week.

Heavy Infestation Of Spittle Bugs

The hot weather of the last week has caused spittle bugs to emerge very rapidly on red clover fields, County Agent Frank Zettie said today. Spittle bug is probably the most serious insect on red clover, he explained.

Tests conducted have shown that this insect if not controlled will cut red clover hay yields by a half ton per acre. Field examinations made last week indicate a very heavy infestation.

Spittle bugs can be controlled if sprayed with lindane. The application should be made as soon as possible using one pint (1) of the 20 per cent lindane emulsion per acre or one pound of the 25 per cent lindane wettable powder per acre. If a weed type sprayer is used, at least 30 gallons of water should be used per acre.

Alfalfa that was not treated for alfalfa weevil and spittle bug last fall should not be treated at this time. To control alfalfa weevil farmers should spray with three pounds of the 25 per cent methoxychlor emulsion per acre or 1 1/2 pints of Malathion emulsion per acre. This application should not be applied till weevil larva injury first appears. Heptachlor is not approved for spring application.

Three and possibly four other cases are scheduled to be before the grand jury for decision this afternoon.

Three men accused of cheating by false pretense in selling aluminum siding to Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Dick, Freedom Twp. last August were pronounced guilty of the charge this morning. The three, Joseph Seidman, 53, Glenolden; Irvin Jack Page, 43, Philadelphia, and Barry Marks, 33, Wynnewood, were tried without a jury before the court earlier this month.

ASK NEW TRIAL

Immediately after the court had announced the three guilty they moved for a new trial, arguing that the verdict was against the evidence.

FRENCH ARMY IS WITHDRAWN OUT OF ORAN

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — French army units occupied the center of Oran Sunday in a maneuver aimed against the terrorist Secret Army Organization, then suddenly withdrew today without any explanation.

Officials said the withdrawal probably would be only temporary, but the sudden switch mystified supporters of the secret army. Army officers would not discuss the reason for the move.

The troops had gone into the heart of Algeria's second city presumably to enforce a new ban against all vehicular traffic and parking in the heart of the city. Citizens also were warned not to walk along roadways in the area or to form groups.

IGNORED WARNING

As soon as the units were withdrawn this morning, European settlers defiantly drove into the restricted area despite an earlier warning that security forces might fire on violators of the new restrictions.

The center of Oran is regarded by the secret army as its own territory.

There was some speculation that French officers, by shifting troops back and forth, were trying to draw hard-core secret army units into the open. The official attitude has been to invest the city without provoking an open and bloody clash with the French settlers' underground.

By midmorning a few troop patrols were back on the streets. They did not interfere with the illegal movement of traffic nor with pedestrians who defiantly walked in the streets instead of on the sidewalk.

An estimated 450 members of the Moslem local force, headed by French officers but responsible to the provisional government, moved into the city's outlying Moslem areas. The only order so far had been maintained there by armed commandos of the rebel army of national liberation.

The toll of terrorism was comparatively light in Algeria Sunday. There were 10 deaths and six injured reported. Nine of the dead were Moslems, and five of the six wounded were Europeans.

CRICKET-LIKE SOUND MAY BE CRASH CAUSE

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A high-pitched twitter, comparable to the sound of crickets in late summer, may have caused the 1960 crash of an airliner in Boston.

The Federal Aviation Agency's Civil Aeromedical Research Institute here has reached that conclusion after a two-year study of the apparent affinity between starlings and Lockheed Electra aircraft.

The crash Oct. 4, 1960, killed 62 persons. Starlings — small birds that fly in flocks and feast on crickets — were found in the Electra's turbo-prop engines.

It wasn't the first time Electras had been bothered by starlings, the institute said. Several times before the Boston crash, Electras were forced to abort flights because of ingestion of the birds.

After the Boston crash, institute researchers began to think there was something in the aircraft engines attracting the starlings, said Dr. Stanley Mohler, director, and researcher John Swearingen in their report.

The wine produced by the aircraft's engines contains a high-pitched twitter that sounds like a swarm of crickets, the investigators said.

Investigators made tape recordings of cricket sounds and the sounds of various aircraft engines, including the Electra.

"The only similar sounds were those of the crickets and the Electra engines," report Mohler and Swearingen.

This is the reason, said the researchers, the Starlings flock behind Electras as they taxi prior to takeoff.

Two Killed When Two Ships Collide

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Norwegian ship Tarantel, her right side ripped from water line to deck in a Chesapeake Bay collision Sunday, rested aground today while men from two Navy salvage vessels battled to keep her from settling deeper.

The bodies of two passengers killed when the Tarantel was rammed just about amidship by the Greek freighter Hellenic Splendor remained aboard the stricken vessel. The Greek ship, although heavily damaged, continued under her own power to Philadelphia.

Heavy fog shrouded the bay when the ships collided about 6:20 a.m. Sunday. Water poured through the gash in the Tarantel's side and she wallowed stern down. A tug and a Navy salvage vessel put lines aboard and were towing her toward a shipyard when she scraped aground.

The Coast Guard said the Tarantel's agents have decided to leave the vessel where she is until an underwater survey determines whether temporary patches should be made before she is towed into a shipyard for repair.

Washington, D. C., to Albany. He is the former dean of the School of Labor Relations at Cornell, the department in which Dr. Hanson taught. The former commissioner of insurance for the state of New York, Dr. Catherwood is now the commissioner of labor for that state.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

SENT TO JAIL FOR 343 DAYS

John B. Reese, 20, Iron Springs, is in jail for 343 days unless he pays a $343 fine on charges of fishing during closed season and possession of 11 brook trout during the closed season.

A relative, Robert Reese, Iron Springs, is being sought by sheriff's deputies on a process issued by the Adams County court for failure to pay court costs on a prior case.

Deputy Sheriff Guy Seifert, Fairfield, thought he had both of the men Saturday when he saw them at the Iron Springs post office as he was driving past enroute to Robert Reese's home to seek him on the warrant.

Seifert stopped his car and nabbed John. Robert meantime disappeared. Seifert says he later "flushed him out of a hiding place under a porch" but, when Robert Reese took his heels, Seifert was handicapped by having another prisoner and couldn't chase the one that got away.

At the hearing before Justice of the Peace Roger Myers, John Reese was sentenced to fines totaling $343 on the fish charges against him. When he was unable to pay, he was jailed.

SENT TO JAIL FOR 343 DAYS

John B. Reese, 20, Iron Springs, is in jail for 343 days unless he pays a $343 fine on charges of fishing during closed season and possession of 11 brook trout during the closed season.

A relative, Robert Reese, Iron Springs, is being sought by sheriff's deputies on a process issued by the Adams County court for failure to pay court costs on a prior case.

Deputy Sheriff Guy Seifert, Fairfield, thought he had both of the men Saturday when he saw them at the Iron Springs post office as he was driving past enroute to Robert Reese's home to seek him on the warrant.

Seifert stopped his car and nabbed John. Robert meantime disappeared. Seifert says he later "flushed him out of a hiding place under a porch" but when Robert Reese took his heels, Seifert was handicapped by having another prisoner and couldn't chase the one that got away.

At the hearing before Justice of the Peace Roger Myers, John Reese was sentenced to fines totaling $343 on the fish charges against him. When he was unable to pay, he was placed in jail.

KENNEDY HAS TASK KEEPING ON GOOD SIDE OF BUSINESS

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's pains to assure industrialists he isn't antibusiness seems sure to become an uphill task.

That is because of government's expanding role in the monitoring of business decisions—whether on wages or prices or profits. It has been growing for some time but took a big step forward in the administration's pressure to get steel companies to rescind their price increase.

A large portion of businessmen think that anyone championing further invasion of what they regard as their right to make their own decisions is bound to be anti-business, no matter what he may say about acting only in the public interest.

HARD TIME WITH LABOR

And when the government's policy involves labor, as in campaigns against inflationary wage increases or labor practices, the President may have a hard time with many union leaders.

The turmoil was dramatized by President Kennedy's appearance before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. That group naturally stands for industry's traditional rights. The President appeared as a champion of a New Industrial Frontier.

But behind all the current furor, some economists in and out of business circles see a new trend emerging — or at least solidifying.

They say the public interest, whatever that is interpreted to mean from time to time, is likely to play an ever larger role. They see the problem for business as one of keeping such intervention in bounds, rather than trying to reverse it.

POLITICS IS PART

Politics plays a role, they concede. But they argue that regardless of party, government's role is changing from that it played in the early postwar years, and even through the 1950s.

And the change is tied in with the way you as a consumer acted then and act now.

In the earlier years, labor and management could slug it out, raise wages and then hike prices. You paid the higher prices because your postwar demand for goods was great—and you tried to counter the higher prices by hitting the boss for a raise.

But now many sectors off industry have more capacity to produce than your demand for goods can keep busy. Foreign production has increased at even a faster rate—and if you don't like American prices you often have a chance to buy foreign goods for less.

DOESN'T WORK WELL

That's why the wage-price spiral doesn't work so well these days, many economists point out.

The businessman's reply to this argument is that supply and demand will set the prices if government keeps hands off, and that in any case it's better for labor and management to fight it out than for the federal government to set up any kind of price and wage controls, however informal.

Labor's reply to the public interest argument is that its wage demands are within reason and needn't mean higher prices if management isn't too greedy for profits.

It's going to be quite a fight—and neither the President nor the U.S. Chamber of Commerce can be sure of victory on the basis of today's skirmish.

SERVES IN SPAIN

Robert F. Lawrence, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Lawrence, McSherrystown, is serving at the joint Spanish-American Naval Base at Rota, Spain. The base at Rota, located on the Bay of Cadiz, is 120 miles from the British fortress at Gibraltar and is a principal supply point for ships and aircraft of the Sixth Fleet.

proper that after 25 years we should take note of her work and give her this token of our love and appreciation."

DOZEN OF ROSES

The 84-year-old matron was presented with a dozen roses. She thanked the court and then opened the roses and showed them to the members of the grand jury.

Born near Gettysburg on a farm, she has been a resident of N. Washington St. since 1917, and was Gettysburg's first police-woman. For years she served as matron in handling women prisoners, assisted in lie detector tests, accompanied women prisoners when they were taken to the penitentiaries and has assisted the court, sheriff's office and police generally as matron.

VARIED SERVICES

Her late husband, Harvey, a cigar maker, at one time was custodian at Christ Lutheran Church and Mrs. Bollinger found one of the pleasures of the job the ringing of the church bells.

In her duties as court matron she has at times been on duty with juries 24 hours a day for two-week long periods — during murder trials when the juries were housed here and kept together incommunicado.

At some times she has spent as long as three weeks at the jail when needed for women prisoners, sleeping there to watch after the prisoners.

Weddings

Vaughn—Keagy

Miss Alma C. Keagy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Grant Keagy Jr., Hanover, became the bride of Charles F. Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Vaughn, 531 York St., at 9 a.m. Saturday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Hanover. The Rev. Richard Zimmerman conducted the double-ring ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass. The altar was decorated with lilies and palms. Mrs. Francis Quigley was organist.

The bride was attired in a full-length gown of delustered satin with a basque bodice and portrait neckline accented with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. The long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. The bouffant veil of French silk illusion fell from a frosted pearl and rose halo headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Miss Barbara Schuchart, Hanover, was maid of honor. Mrs. Brenda Smith, Hanover, was bridesmaid. Both wore Nile green dresses of organdy over taffeta, with short sleeves, deep hems and crossed belts ending in bows in back. They were matching shoes and green taffeta bows with chin-length veils.

Jude Smith, Shippensburg, was best man. John Spenseller, Hanover, was usher.

A breakfast was served after the ceremony at the Victory Restaurant. A reception was held Saturday at the Goodwill Fire Co. hall, Grangeville, for 90 guests.

Following a wedding trip to New York the couple will reside at 7 Third St., Hanover. For her travel attire the bride chose a blue dress, navy coat and accessories and white carnation corsage.

She is a graduate of Eichelberger Senior High School and is employed as a typist by Lana Lobell, Inc. Her husband is a Delone Catholic High School graduate and attended Shippensburg State College. He served three years with the U. S. Navy and is employed in the office of H. O. Toor Co.

CRAMPS HIS STYLE

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Submarine quarters seemed cramped to most Navy sailors but to Midshipman Dick Webster they were positively shrinking.

Webster, 20, assigned to the submarine USS Sea Fox for a five-week cruise as a reserve officer candidate from the University of Kansas, is 6 feet 5 inches tall.

He found low overhead gear particularly cramping.

Henry M. Scharf, treasurer of the association, said $832 was received from schools during March. He added "the fact that these schools are in scattered areas indicates that the program is taking hold generally."

OTHER DONATIONS

William Township Elementary School at Easton, raised $225. "But even more indicative of the wide interest of school children in Gettysburg is the receipt of $150 each from the Mulberry School in Whittier, Calif., and the Tudolf Junior High School at Tacoma, Wash. Robinson Junior High School, Wichita, Kan., sent $104. Other schools sending sums ranging from $1 to $52 were in New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, Vermont, Maryland, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Alabama and California, as well as Pennsylvania. The wide distribution of the schools gives much hope for the future."

Organizations continued to send in amounts, among them the Sons of Union Veterans of San Jose, Calif.; Ladies of the GAR in Missouri and Iowa, an Amvets Post in Ohio. The Fourth Michigan Volunteers of Dundee, Mich., sent $30 and the Fourth Michigan Volunteers of Maybee, Mich., sent $2.

Scharf said the association received "during the last month a contribution from what is probably the most distant contributor, The American Civil War Research Group of Australia sent $7."

a turning point in the relationship of government with industry.

"TURNING POINT"

There was more laughter when he added: "And some say the events of this April also marked a turning point." From that reference to the steel-price battle, Kennedy went on to observe that he hoped this April would indeed have been a turning point in the sense that it may have awakened wider knowledge off the necessity for understanding between business, government and labor.

Even though the cheers from chambers of commerce around the country were not overwhelming or deafening when he was elected, Kennedy said, he has been impressed with the cooperation given by business groups ever since when the country has become involved in crisis.

gift of $250 from the organization and individual subscriptions totaling nearly $300 from individual members to the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association. This presentation was made to Dr. Frederick E. Tilberg who received it on behalf of the battlefield preservation group.

The Chicago Civil War Round Table is the "daddy" of the several hundred Civil War Round Tables in the United States and in many countries of the world. Prominent in the formation was Ralph Newman, of the Lincoln Book Store, Chicago, who participated in the Gettysburg tour. Gerhard P. Clausius is president of the organization. H. George Donovan was chairman of the tour committee and Allen Meyer and Brooks Davis were marshals of the 1962 tour.

The tour party comprised several professional men and leading business figures of the Chicago area.

Many Visit Model Home At Twin Oaks

The open house Saturday and Sunday in the model home at Twin Oaks was largely attended as many called to inspect the "Valley Forge" model home on display there as advertised in Life magazine by 100 builders throughout the country. The home was built by John E. Snyder.

A swivel rocker given as a door prize was won by Robert Shealer, 253 E. Middle St., and a set of lamps for end tables went to Mrs. J. Edmond Smith, 118 Hanover St.

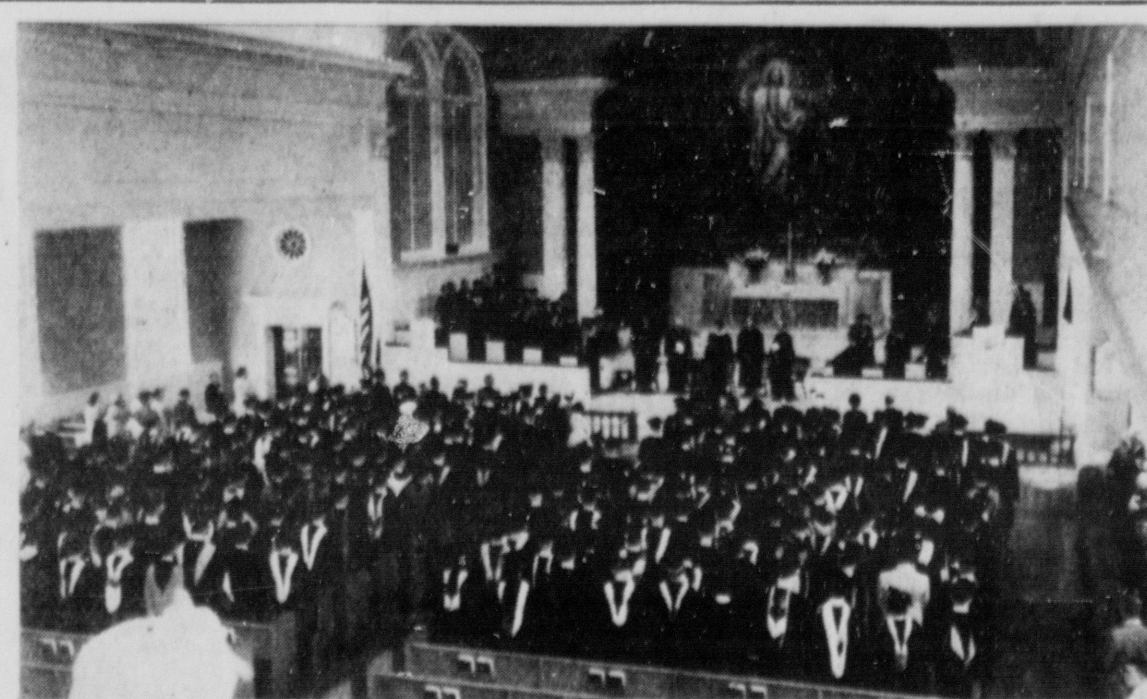

Floral arrangements for the open house were by the Twin Bridges Farm and the fireplace equipment was by Gettysburg Hardware. These two participants in the open house plans were inadvertently omitted from a display advertisement appearing in The Gettysburg Times last week.

OLD COLLEGE TRY

BOSTON (AP) — Emerson College professor Haig Der Marderosian is dieting — at $100 a pound.

The money — contributed by students and alumni for every pound lost — is going to the college fund.

The professor's goal is 100 pounds. He's lost 75 since Nov. 1 when he weighed 342½ pounds. "Fat came off in layers when I started," the professor says. "It's like chipping granite block now. But I hope to make it eventually."

This picture of the inauguration ceremony was made from the balcony of Christ Chapel and shows the capped and gowned official representatives in the center block, the participants on the elevated area before the altar and on either side at the front the members of the Gettysburg College choir. Feiser Funeral Home in New Oxford at 9:15 o'clock. There was a Requiem Mass at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church at Paradise at 10 a.m. The Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Braubitz officiated. # Heavy Infestation Of Spittle Bugs

The hot weather of the last week has caused spittle bugs to emerge very rapidly on red clover fields, County Agent Frank Zettle said today. Spittle bug is probably the most serious insect on red clover, he explained.

Tests conducted have shown that this insect if not controlled will cut red clover hay yields by a half ton per acre. Field examinations made last week indicate a very heavy infestation.

Spittle bugs can be controlled if sprayed with lindane. The application should be made as soon as possible using one pint (1) of the 20 per cent lindane emulsion per acre or one pound of the 25 per cent lindane wettable powder per acre. If a weed type sprayer is used, at least 30 gallons of water should be used per acre.

Alfalfa that was not treated for alfalfa weevil and spittle bug last fall should not be treated at this time. To control alfalfa weevil farmers should spray with three pounds of the 25 per cent methoxychlor emulsion per acre or 1½ pints of Malathion emulsion per acre. This application should not be applied till weevil larva injury first appears. Heptachlor is not approved for spring application.

field and cashed by him. Another charge involves making false entries in the books of the company by Shanks to cover the checks and another charge involves conspiracy between the two men to defraud the company. Shanks currently is in Maryland prison on two bank robbery charges.

Three and possibly four other cases are scheduled to be before the grand jury for decision this afternoon.

Three men accused of cheating by false pretense in selling aluminum siding to Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Dick, Freedom Twp., last August were pronounced guilty of the charge this morning. The three, Joseph Seidman, 33, Glenolden; Irvin Jack Page, 43, Philadelphia, and Barry Marks, 33, Wynnewood, were tried without a jury before the court earlier this month.

ASK NEW TRIAL

Immediately after the court had announced the three guilty they moved for a new trial, arguing that the verdict was against the evidence.

The court set bail for the three at $1,500 each pending decision whether a new trial should be granted, and placed the three in custody of the sheriff until bail could be secured.

John A. Hall was named a supervisor for Franklin Twp. by the court following presentation of a petition asking his appointment and stating that Frank E. Miller had resigned.

DISCUSS JUROR

The court approved dissolution of the Abbottstown Water Co. The assets of the company had earlier been taken over by the Abbottstown Municipal Authority.

All members of the grand jury reported this morning. To reduce the group to an uneven number Charles Kritchman, McSherrystown, was excused.

Preliminary approval was given to naming Mae V. Solomon, Fairfield R. 1, a "feme sole trader" so she may conduct business without her husband's signature. She alleges her husband, Hubert, had deserted her and now resides in St. Petersburg, Fla.

A number of accounts in estates were approved by the court. The accounts and amounts for distribution were: Jennie W. Cluck, administratrix of the estate of Anna Belle Weikert, late of Gettysburg, nothing; Fannie M. Zartman, administratrix of the

FRENCH ARMY IS WITHDRAWN OUT OF ORAN

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — French army units occupied the center of Oran Sunday in a maneuver aimed against the terrorist Secret Army Organization, then suddenly withdrew today without any explanation.

Officials said the withdrawal probably would be only temporary, but the sudden switch mystified supporters of the secret army. Army officers would not discuss the reason for the move.

The troops had gone into the heart of Algeria's second city presumably to enforce a new ban against all vehicular traffic and parking in the heart of the city. Citizens also were warned not to walk along roadways in the area or to form groups.

IGNORED WARNING

As soon as the units were withdrawn this morning, European settlers defiantly drove into the restricted area despite an earlier warning that security forces might fire on violators of the new restrictions.

The center of Oran is regarded by the secret army as its own territory.

There was some speculation that French officers, by shifting troops back and forth, were trying to draw hard-core secret army units into the open. The official attitude has been to invest the city without provoking an open and bloody clash with the French settlers' underground.

By midmorning a few troop patrols were back on the streets. They did not interfere with the illegal movement of traffic nor with pedestrians who defiantly walked in the streets instead of on the sidewalk.

An estimated 450 members of the Moslem local force, headed by French officers but responsible to the provisional government, moved into the city's outlying Moslem areas. The only order so far had been maintained there by armed commandos of the rebel army of national liberation.

The toll of terrorism was comparatively light in Algeria Sunday. There were 10 deaths and six injured reported. Nine of the dead were Moslems, and five of the six wounded were Europeans.

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

Pennsylvania Reserves: It will be gratifying to Pennsylvanians to know that the Union gunboat Carondelet, which recently made the gallant dash of running the blockade by the rebel batteries at Island No. 10, on the Mississippi, getting safely into her desired position under a fire of forty shots, is manned entirely by volunteers from the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps., McCall's Division. The quota of volunteers from the division, for the gunboats service, was sixty men, ten from each regiment, and they left General McCall's headquarters on the Potomac, after inspection of the detachment by the General himself on Monday morning, the 17th of February. They are a fine body of men and nobly are they sustaining the reputation of Pennsylvania.

The Great Battle Of Shiloh: Our Western exchanges continue to be filled with letters from the battlefield of Shiloh, descriptive of scenes and incidents of the terrible engagement. No such scene was ever before witnessed in America. On Thursday wounded men, mangled horses, crushed bodies, extended so interminably it was impossible to pass through them. Physicians were busy loading nobly but instruments became blunted and useless and surgeons dropped with fatigue at their posts before a fifth part of the work had been done. It will be a week before all can be collected and taken care of. Now the battle is over, it becomes a subject of wonder that the loss on both sides was not even greater. For two days the bullets flew without cessation and passed like a storm of destruction through the woods.

Mr. Henry Ziegler, of Butler Township, a few days ago, captured a Wild Goose on Big Conocoque Creek, near Hartzell's Mill, by hitting it with a stone. A dog brought it to shore. It weighed ten pounds. That WAS "a good throw for Butler."

A show-window, with a glass door into the hall-way will be put in for the use of the Mumper photograph gallery. Entrance to the gallery will be through the old hall-way which is tastefully fitted up as a show and sales room, and up stairs to the reception and operating room. Mr. Charles Comfort is doing the work.

Post Office Robbery: On Friday night thieves effected an entrance to the York Springs post office, by boring out the lock in the solid double door and prizing the fastenings out, the door being iron bolted above and below. About 200 letters and 1,000 pennies, a violin, a lot of 2, 5, and 10 cent postage stamps, 40 pounds of tobacco and a lot of cigars were stolen. Every box in the store was ransacked, and contents not wanted scattered around. No arrests have been made.

Today's Talk

THINKING FOR YOURSELF

It does seem as though the most precious possession we can call our own should be our own thoughts.

The books that have stimulated me the most have been those in which each author has so expressed himself that I have felt a separate individual was talking to me.

We speak of "original" thinkers when there are none. The best that the wisest can do is to put an old thought in a new way, or at least in a manner such that the largest number may be most attracted to it.

Each of us may use an individual technique. That is, we can put the God-given touch of individual personality back of each one of our thoughts, and thus give the world something full of inspiration and beauty.

The world doesn't change for individuals. It remains the same for all, though ever changing.

Birth gives to each human being a definite stamp — no two have ever been alike. It is strange, therefore, that these human beings should all have their own way of looking at things and measuring them according to their lights? The fact is, however, that few use this God-given inheritance. Most people prefer to let someone else shape their thoughts.

Thinking for yourself will make you strong. It will also make you more observant, more appreciative, and less easily influenced by those who are really inferior in intelligence.

To read biography and history will give you ideas and an opportunity to think for yourself. People have to think for themselves in order to rise and create and make a worthwhile life and history possible.

Another aid in learning to think for yourself is to become a good listener, and not agree with everything you hear. You have a right to believe that you are right in an opinion until someone is able to prove you wrong.

Take pride in your thoughts and your own opinions!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Duty"

MAY

I

May is coming with her blossoms, she is just adown the lane;
She is coming with her sunshine, after April sends her rain.
May is daily drawing nearer, like a winsome blushing maid;
She will soon be here to greet us, for the April rent is paid.

II

May is coming with her pansies and her apple blossoms sweet;
She will spread a verdant carpet for the weary toiler's feet.
Soon the trees that bend above us with her breezes will be swayed;
May is coming faster and faster for the April rent is paid.

III

Months of fragrant cherry blossoms, months of fleecy skies and blue;
Through the dreary days of winter I have wished so oft for you.
But you're coming now, and quickly, you'll be here, I am afraid,
Ere we hardly realize it, since the April rent is paid.

later setting, still mindful of the influence of tradition but hopelessly alert to the demands of this day and the next, one looks to the means and the measure of the "salutary influence" which the college may now exert.

Institutional self-scrutiny is not easy and there are those here, I'm sure, who will testify to this. Nonetheless this college is engaged in this examination and at some point in the future an expression of purpose and design will emerge which will reflect the judgments of those who constitute the college. Comment on the character of the college in advance of formal conclusions is done at some risk but is done nevertheless to lend support to the study and to give emphasis to those aspects which appear most crucial. One does this moreover, recognizing that disputation is a natural part of the academic scene and hence objections, whether inevitable or not, are clearly possible.

"AN ABLE FACULTY"

Gettysburg College has been, and doubtless will continue to be, devoted to instructions in the liberal arts. Ours is an able faculty and we attract a student body of increasing promise. We will have as a continuing interest therefore the determination of the most effective means through which the teacher and student confront one another in the accomplishment of liberal learning. But we will need to be alert to the sensitive gauging of the limits within which we will expend our resources, making sure at the same time that we encourage the full use of the capabilities which we attract.

Our task then is that of a liberal arts college, purposely modest in dimensions, in which the development of the individual — both teacher and student — is of deliberate concern. It follows we believe that the salient characteristics of the college are those which dispose toward a greater responsibility of the student in the learning process; the accommodation of all parts of the college in the primary task; and the adherence to the values which attach to the learning and practice of scholarship.

GENEROUS DONORS

We recognize the significant stature which the college has already achieved as a place of liberal learning. Our library, now enlarged, is an object of real pride — yet we must insure that it is more than a building — its influence must extend throughout the campus. Donors have been generous in providing distinguished collections of art — but these and other similar influences must someday be a natural part of campus experience. We support a structure of program and facilities designed for complementation of the formal curriculum — these must attain the measure of positive influence of which they are capable. Mindful that the level of learning and teaching and the vigor of our academic life are responsive to the expectations of those who form the college — we must be aware that we determine the character of our endeavor as we choose those who are to be teachers and students. But in the final analysis the definition of our character can only be real as we achieve a measure of belief and practice which permits us to stand with integrity in the company of reputable institutions. Our responsibility can be no less than is needed to assure that we bear that scrutiny as well as our own.

Gettysburg was the first of a number of colleges whose founding and subsequent work have been marked by an association with the Lutheran church. Thus we are known as a Christian college, though, in contrast to others, Gettysburg is not formally owned or controlled by the church. Nonetheless through the years the influence of the church has been real and meaningful. In turn the College has sought to perform its mission as an academic community. There can be little doubt about the positive consequences of this relationship. Significant assistance has come from individuals, congregations, and synods in support of this enterprise. This college has been conspicuous in its preparation of men for the Lutheran ministry and it has sought moreover with courage and honesty the most effective way to provide its witness.

INDIVIDUAL PURPOSE
We stand now at a point of singular urgency as we consider the nature of the Christian college. There is every reason to believe that we shall remain a college dedicated to the transmission of knowledge and the acculturation of values which give meaning to education. Thus we will continue to foster a campus atmosphere in which the reality of ethical behavior may be demonstrated as a part of the discipline and satisfaction of scholarly accomplishment. We will consider as the culmination of our effort the opportunity for the student to develop a philosophy which gives sense and direction to his existence. In this growth process, access to the fullness of man's heritage is the beginning, confrontation with the lasting questions of mankind is the design.

"THE MORNING MIST"

Wondrous is the morning mist . . . veil of silver gray . . . covering the valley green . . . like a great bouquet . . . almost seems like I can walk . . . on this velvet cloud . . . that embraces field and stream . . . in a silken shroud . . . now and then a songbird darts . . . through this hazy sea . . . such a heavenly display . . . enraptures the heart of me . . . but as I drink the fullness . . . of this dreamy sight . . . morning sun pops into view . . . dawn begins its flight . . . now I can see the valley green . . . such beauty I cannot resist . . . yet in memory I keep . . . part of the morning mist.

and the emergence of individual purpose is the object. It is submitted that the facts of religious heritage are more than a legitimate part of this experience — they are indeed crucial. Our continuation as a Christian college makes necessary then scholarly instruction to provide insight in the nature of the Hebraic-Christian tradition and the establishment of a religious program which is voluntary in nature, but as vigorous and as compelling as any of our academic responsibilities.

It is patent of course that the Christian lives in a world which accommodates faiths other than his own. It follows, we feel, that this community can permit no limitation in its citizenry. Moreover we may encourage the establishment of faith but we are not an evangelical assembly. We can foster the witness of faith but we cannot assure it. We assume finally a compatibility between scholarship and religious inquiry and believe these to be meaningful to all dimensions of life. Therefore we shall preserve the integrity of each while urging their most vigorous expression.

"CHANGE IN VALUES"

Much has been said about the opportunity of the residential college in providing dimensions to undergraduate experience which are broadening and beneficial. Too little may have been said about our limited use of this capability, or of the resistance to learning which the campus environment may actually provide.

Typically we term the campus an academic community assuming thereby that the whole character of the place is integrative and supportive of its central purpose. Too frequently it appears that the actual character is dichotomous with a separation between something called "academics" and everything else. One can express the hope, if not all the means, of modifying this divisive influence, and possibly in the process rid us of an unfortunate usage of the word "academic."

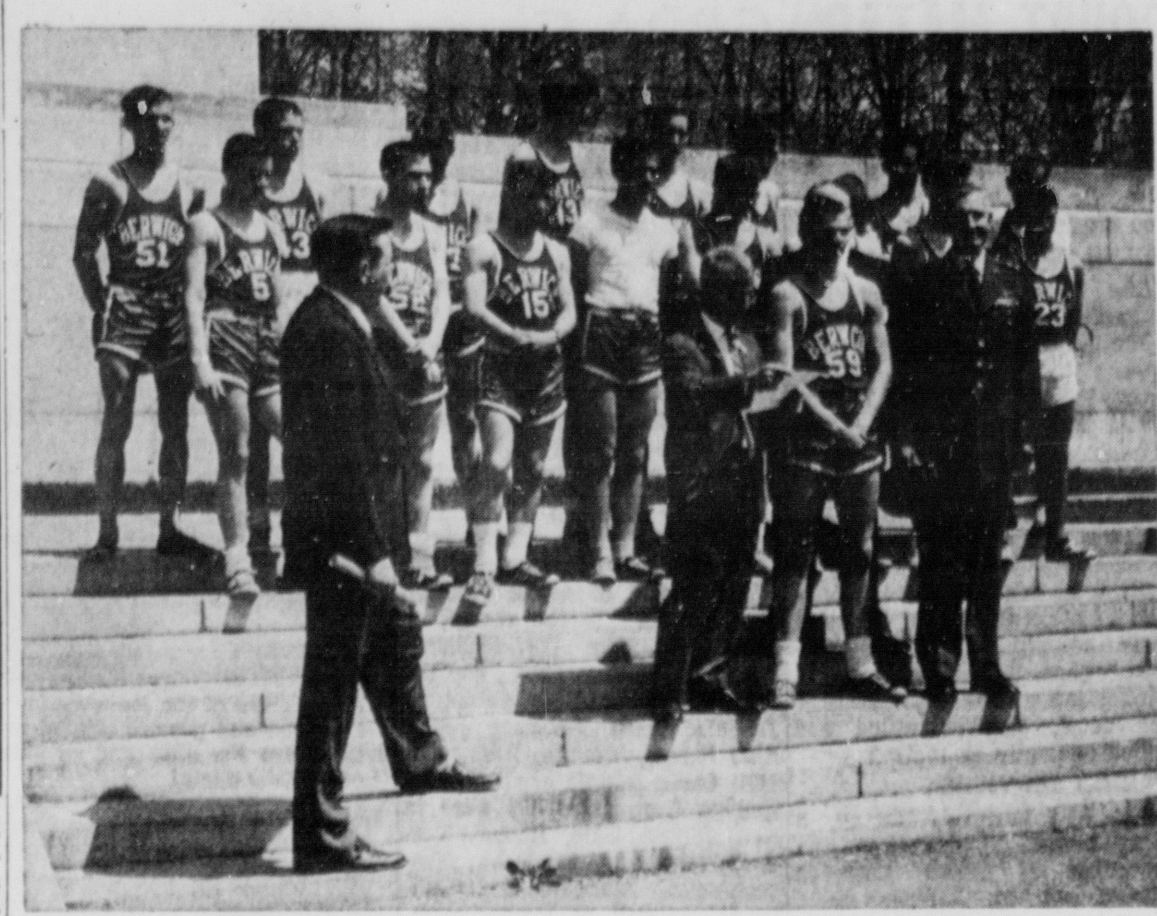

To bring about such changes, that is, to gain the advantage of residential life which complements the scholastic design requires, one supposes, a change in the values, the mores, of those who inhabit the community and those who exist on its fringes. This is a task we initiate here. We do so confident that the price and the preciousness of education requires it and that present and coming generations of students demand it. It is our hope therefore that we may make clear to those who come — what it is that we expect of them — and then expect no less. We must aid students, moreover, to develop new symbols of merit and accomplishment and we ourselves must behave in manner consistent with these signs.

SUGGEST PRIORITIES

It is reasonable to assume that most, perhaps all, of our campus practices and institutions will remain but conceivably in different balance or effect. One plots no revolution here for these seeds have long been sown. Our task is to suggest priorities of commitment in the face of circumstances which this and every college now faces. We are pressed to do our utmost not simply in the formal act of education but in its setting as well.

The ultimate resource of a college is its faculty. To say this is to state the obvious but to act in consequence of this assumption is to undertake the difficult. The role for our dilemma, we believe, lies in the perspective from which we view the institution of higher education and the significance which we attach thereby to the basic attitude which prevails within it.

The position held here is that creativity and scholarly vigor are essential and thus their stimulation and sustenance are much to be sought. We are not alone in holding that responsible participation by faculty in the governance of a college is determinative of its academic and political morale. It is our intention to act in light of this belief. We submit moreover that the teacher is both the process and, in a real sense, the product of the institution. Thus the enhancement of the capabilities of the teacher is a primary responsibility of the institution. It is our hope, therefore, to extend the means through which the teacher renews and increases his competence. We will at the same time resist the dissipation of faculty effort in areas where from Harrisburg to the Eternal Light Peace Memorial where it was presented to Robert McCormick, State College, chairman of the state Elks Youth Day program.

The youngsters ran the 90 miles from Berwick to Harrisburg in 10 hours. They were guests of the Harrisburg Elks lodge overnight. They made the trip in relays of 3.3 miles per man. The 37-mile trip from Harrisburg here was made in four and one-half hours, each man running two and one-half miles.

PEACE MESSAGE

Richard Seely, 14, was the anchor man on the trip here. Later, after General Montgomery and Chairman McCormick arrived at the memorial the entire team raced out the Mummasburg Road and up to the memorial where the runners circled the shaft and then were given an ovation by several hundred Elks and other visitors on the field.

FACE SERIOUS TESTS

The period ahead is clearly one in which the college will be subject to serious test. Issues will be dealt with in which the faculty have obvious concerns. One can be confident that these questions will be resolved in an atmosphere of trust and respect. If this is also a lively process because resolution requires a contest between diverse views, we are the better; for this is the process which institutions such as this should not only transmit but be successful in demonstration.

That which has been said about this college assumes the presence of motivating forces which prompt the setting of goals and their attainment. Certainly the establishment of purpose, the clarification of design, and the assignment of resources are responses to be expected of any institution. But, our times are unusual and call for performance which is beyond the ordinary.

In this setting, and in these times, this institution stands in strategic position since it draws from its purpose an energy which is deep and compelling. Stripped of all secondary adjectives, this is a Christian college in the liberal tradition which seeks to provide an education the distinctive quality of which resides in the common pursuit of academic and religious insight. That this purpose is sound, urgent, and attainable is not doubted, that it is within easy reach is too much to assume. We commit ourselves to the task nonetheless, convinced that in the determination of that which is "salutary" we may draw on the integrity which the tradition of scholarship provides and on the faith which is ever a part of man's search for ultimate understanding.

"USEFUL, NECESSARY"

In all of this one would seek to make clear the role of the speaker. Mindful of the awesome body of theory and opinion which treats of the task of the college president, and feeling little urge to add to that store, it still may be said that this office is useful and occasionally necessary. The utility which commends the position comes from efforts to protect the essential functions of the college, to marshal its resources, and to guide its responses to the world which it serves. One speaks moreover with the benefit of a modest experience which has preceded this ceremony. The past months have provided some understanding of the tradition of this college and an estimate of its resources as well. The richness of these give ample promise of a future in which there is opportunity for service for all who associate in this venture. The task which I have now assumed is one of challenge and honor to which dedication is freely given.

SEVEN KILLED ON HIGHWAYS OVER WEEKEND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hot, sunny weather sent thousands to the roads over the weekend but Pennsylvania kept its traffic death toll down in comparison to recent weekends.

Seven persons were killed in traffic accidents, including two small children. One person died in a non-traffic accident, making the overall toll eight from the period beginning at 6 p.m. Friday and ending at midnight Sunday.

During the previous two weekends, 10 persons were killed in traffic accidents each weekend. Three weekends ago 12 persons were killed and four weekends ago 16 were killed.

CHARGE DRIVER
The children who were killed were Ruth Ann Beach, 5, of Elizabethtown, who ran into the side of a car Saturday night, and Thomas Gray, 7, of Philadelphia, who was killed by a car Saturday as he and a brother were returning home from a baseball game. Willie Goode, 42, the driver of the car which killed Thomas, was charged with involuntary manslaughter and drunken driving.

The other victims:

West Chester—John R. Lammey Jr., 21, Romansville, Chester County, killed Sunday when his car ran off route 162 three miles west of here.

Easton — Elaine Hoffschild, 26, Easton, killed Sunday when the car she was learning to drive went out of control and overturned nine miles north of here.

OTHER FATALITIES
Pittsburgh—Morris Friedman, 38, Pittsburgh, a Pennsylvania Railroad conductor killed Saturday when pinned between a baggage car and a platform.

Johnstown—Mrs. Linda Gibson, about 22, Johnstown, killed Saturday in a three-car crash two miles north. Eleven others were injured, none seriously.

Oil City—Mrs. Helen Wirth, 30, Bethel Park, killed Friday night in a two-car crash near here.

Chambersburg — Thomas Henry Borden, 60, Chambersburg R. 5, struck by a car and killed near his home Friday night.

Sunday's Stars
Bating — Mike Hershberger, White Sox—Hit his first major league home run to snap a 1-1 tie for a 2-1 White Sox victory in the opener, then singled home two runs to snap a 1-1 tie for a 5-1 second game victory.

Pitching — Alvin McBean, Pirates—Pitched a seven-hitter and, with the help of Dick Stuart's seventh inning home run, defeated the Dodgers 1-0 in the nightcap after the Pirates had won the first game 6-1.

Today's Talk
THINKING FOR YOURSELF
It does seem as though the most precious possession we can call our own should be our own thoughts.
The books that have stimulated me the most have been those in which each author has so expressed himself that I have felt a separate individual was talking to me.
We speak of "original" thinkers when there are none. The best that the wisest can do is to put an old thought in a new way, or at least in a manner such that the largest number may be most attracted to it.
Each of us may use an individual technique. That is, we can put the God-given touch of individual personality back of each one of our thoughts, and thus give the world something full of inspiration and beauty.
The world doesn't change for individuals. It remains the same for all, though ever changing.
Birth gives to each human being a definite stamp — no two have ever been alike. It is strange, therefore, that these human beings should all have their own way of looking at things and measuring them according to their lights? The fact is, however, that few use this God-given inheritance. Most people prefer to let someone else shape their thoughts.
Thinking for yourself will make you strong. It will also make you more observant, more appreciative, and less easily influenced by those who are really inferior in intelligence.
To read biography and history will give you ideas and an opportunity to think for yourself. People have to think for themselves in order to rise and create and make a worthwhile life and history possible.
Another aid in learning to think for yourself is to become a good listener, and not agree with everything you hear. You have a right to believe that you are right in an opinion until someone is able to prove you wrong.
Take pride in your thoughts and your own opinions!
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Duty"

Address By Dr. Hanson At Inauguration
later setting, still mindful of the influence of tradition but hopefully alert to the demands of this day and the next, one looks to the means and the measure of the "salutary influence" which the college may now exert.
Institutional self-criticism is not easy and there are those here, I'm sure, who will testify to this. Nonetheless this college is engaged in this examination and at some point in the future an expression of purpose and design will emerge which will reflect the judgments of those who constitute the college. Comment on the character of the college in advance of formal conclusions is done at some risk but is done nevertheless to lend support to the study and to give emphasis to those aspects which appear most crucial. One does this moreover, recognizing that disputation is a natural part of the academic scene and hence objections, whether inevitable or not, are clearly possible.
"AN ABLE FACULTY"
Gettysburg College has been, and doubtless will continue to be, devoted to instructions in the liberal arts. Ours is an able faculty and we attract a student body of increasing promise. We will have as a continuing interest therefore the determination of the most effective means through which the teacher and student confront one another in the accomplishment of liberal learning. But we will need to be alert to the sensitive gauging of the limits within which we will expend our resources, making sure at the same time that we encourage the full use of the capabilities which we attract. Our task then is that of a liberal arts college, purposely modest in dimensions, in which the development of the individual — both teacher and student — is of deliberate concern. It follows we believe that the salient characteristics of the college are those which dispose toward a greater responsibility of the student in the learning process; the accommodation of all parts of the college in the primary task; and the adherence to the values which attach to the learning and practice of scholarship.
GENEROUS DONORS
We recognize the significant stature which the college has already achieved as a place of liberal learning. Our library, now enlarged, is an object of real pride — yet we must insure that it is more than a building — its influence must extend throughout the campus. Donors have been generous in providing distinguished collections of art — but these and other similar influences must someday be a natural part of campus experience. We support a structure of program and facilities designed for complementation of the formal curriculum — these must attain the measure of positive influence of which they are capable. Mindful that the level of learning and teaching and the vigor of our academic life are responsive to the expectations of those who form the college — we must be aware that we determine the character of our endeavor as we choose those who are to be teachers and students. But in the final analysis the definition of our character can only be real as we achieve a measure of belief and practice which permits us to stand with integrity in the company of reputable institutions. Our responsibility can be no less than is needed to assure that we bear that scrutiny as well as our own.
Gettysburg was the first of a number of colleges whose founding and subsequent work have been marked by an association with the Lutheran church. Thus we are known as a Christian college, though, in contrast to others, Gettysburg is not formally owned or controlled by the church. Nonetheless through the years the influence of the church has been real and meaningful. In turn the College has sought to perform its mission as an academic community. There can be little doubt about the positive consequences of this relationship. Significant assistance has come from individuals, congregations, and synods in support of this enterprise. This college has been conspicuous in its preparation of men for the Lutheran ministry and it has sought moreover with courage and honesty the most effective way to provide its witness.
INDIVIDUAL PURPOSE
We stand now at a point of singular urgency as we consider the nature of the Christian college. There is every reason to believe that we shall remain a college dedicated to the transmission of knowledge and the acculturation of values which give meaning to education. Thus we will continue to foster a campus atmosphere in which the reality of ethical behavior may be demonstrated as a part of the discipline and satisfaction of scholarly accomplishment. We will consider as the culmination of our effort the opportunity for the student to develop a philosophy which gives sense and direction to his existence. In this growth process, access to the fullness of man's heritage is the beginning, confrontation with the lasting questions of mankind is the design,

"THE MORNING MIST"
Wondrous in the morning mist... veil of silver gray... covering the valley green... like a great bouquet... almost seems like I can walk... on this velvet cloud... that embraces field and stream... in a silken shroud... now and then a songbird darts... through this hazy sea... such a heavenly display... enravels the heart of me... but as I drink the fullness... of this dreamy sight... morning sun pops into view... dawn begins its flight... now I can see the valley green... such beauty I cannot resist... yet in memory I keep... part of the morning mist.
and the emergence of individual purpose is the object. It is submitted that the facts of religious heritage are more than a legitimate part of this experience — they are indeed crucial. Our continuation as a Christian college makes necessary then scholarly instruction to provide insight in the nature of the Hebraic-Christian tradition and the establishment of a religious program which is voluntary in nature, but as vigorous and as compelling as any of our academic responsibilities.
It is patent of course that the Christian lives in a world which accommodates faiths other than his own. It follows, we feel, that this community can permit no limitation in its citizenry. Moreover we may encourage the establishment of faith but we are not an evangelical assembly. We can foster the witness of faith but we cannot assure it. We assume finally a complicity between scholarship and religious inquiry and believe these to be meaningful to all dimensions of life. Therefore we shall preserve the integrity of each while urging their most vigorous expression.
"CHANGE IN VALUES"
Much has been said about the opportunity of the residential college in providing dimensions to undergraduate experience which are broadening and beneficial. Too little may have been said about our limited use of this capability, or of the resistance to learning which the campus environment may actually provide.
Typically we term the campus an academic community assuming thereby that the whole character of the place is integrative and supportive of its central purpose. Too frequently it appears that the actual character is dichotomous with a separation between something called "academics" and everything else. One can express the hope, if not all the means, of modifying this divisive influence, and possibly in the process rid us of an unfortunate usage of the word "academic."
To bring about such changes, that is, to gain the advantage of residential life which complements the scholastic design requires, one supposes, a change in the values, the mores, of those who inhabit the community and those who exist on its fringes. This is a task we initiate here. We do so confident that the price and the preciousness of education requires it and that present and coming generations of students demand it. It is our hope therefore that we may make clear to those who come — what it is that we expect of them — and then expect no less. We must aid students, moreover, to develop new symbols of merit and accomplishment and we ourselves must behave in manner consistent with these signs.
SUGGEST PRIORITIES
It is reasonable to assume that most, perhaps all, of our campus practices and institutions will remain but conceivably in different balance or effect. One pitfall no revolution here for these seeds have long been sown. Our task is to suggest priorities of commitment in the face of circumstances which this and every college now faces. We are pressed to do our utmost not simply in the formal act of education but in its setting as well.
The ultimate resource of a college is its faculty. To say this is to state the obvious but to act in consequence of this assumption is to undertake the difficult. The root for our dilemma, we believe, lies in the perspective from which we view the institution of higher education and the significance which we attach thereby to the basic attitude which prevails within it.
The position held here is that creativity and scholarly vigor are essential and thus their stimulation and sustenance are much to be sought. We are not alone in holding that responsible participation by faculty in the governance of a college is determinative of its academic and political morale. It is our intention to act in light of this belief. We submit moreover that the teacher is both the process and, in a real sense, the product of the institution. Thus the enhancement of the capabilities of the teacher is a primary responsibility of the institution. It is our hope, therefore, to extend the means through which the teacher renews and increases his competence. We will at the same time resist the dissipation of faculty effort in areas where

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Pennsylvania Reserves: It will be gratifying to Pennsylvanians to know that the Union gunboat Carondelet, which recently made the gallant dash of running the blockade by the rebel batteries at Island No. 10, on the Mississippi, getting safely into her desired position under a fire of forty shots, is manned entirely by volunteers from the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, McCall's Division. The quota of volunteers from the division, for the gunboats service, was sixty men, ten from each regiment, and they left General McCall's headquarters on the Potomac, after inspection of the detachment by the General himself on Monday morning, the 17th of February. They are a fine body of men and nobly are they sustaining the reputation of Pennsylvania.

Just Folks
MAY
I
May is coming with her blossoms, she is just down the lane; She is coming with her sunshine, after April sends her rain. May is daily drawing nearer, like a winsome blushing maid; She will soon be here to greet us, for the April rent is paid.
II
May is coming with her pansies and her apple blossoms sweet; She will spread a verdant carpet for the weary toiler's feet. Soon the trees that bend above us with her breezes will be swayed; May is coming faster and faster for the April rent is paid.
III
Months of fragrant cherry blossoms, months of fleecy skies and blue; Through the dreary days of winter I have wished so oft for you. But you're coming now, and quickly, you'll be here, I am afraid, ere we hardly realize it, since the April rent is paid.
Protected, 1962, by The George Matthew Adams Service

FACE SERIOUS TESTS
The period ahead is clearly one in which the college will be subject to serious test. Issues will be dealt with in which the faculty have obvious concerns. One can be confident that these questions will be resolved in an atmosphere of trust and respect. This is also a lively process because resolution requires a contest between diverse views, we are the better, for this is the process which institutions such as this should not only transmit but be successful in demonstration.
That which has been said about this college assumes the presence of motivating forces which prompt the setting of goals and their attainment. Certainly the establishment of purpose, the clarification of design, and the assignment of resources are responsibilities to be expected of any institution. But our times are unusual and call for performance which is beyond the ordinary.
In this setting, and in these times, this institution stands in strategic position since it draws from its purpose an energy which is deep and compelling. Stripped of all secondary adjectives, this is a Christian college in the liberal tradition which seeks to provide an education the distinctive quality of which resides in the common pursuit of academic and religious insight. That this purpose is sound, urgent, and attainable is not doubted, that it is within easy reach is too much to assume. We commit ourselves to the task nonetheless, convinced that in the determination of that which is "salutary" we may draw on the integrity which the tradition of scholarship provides and on the faith which is ever a part of man's search for ultimate understanding.
"USEFUL, NECESSARY"
In all of this one would seek to make clear the role of the speaker. Mindful of the awesome body of theory and opinion which treats of the task of the college president, and feeling little urge to add to that store, it still may be said that this office is useful and occasionally necessary. The utility which commends the position comes from efforts to protect the essential functions of the college, to marshal its resources, and to guide its responses to the world which it serves. One speaks moreover with the benefit of a modest experience which has preceded this ceremony. The past months have provided some understanding of the tradition of this college and an estimate of its resources as well. The richness of these give ample promise of a future in which there is opportunity for service for all who associate in this venture. The task which I have now assumed is one of challenge and honor to which dedication is freely given.

The Great Battle Of Shiloh: Our Western exchanges continue to be filled with letters from the battlefield of Shiloh, descriptive of scenes and incidents of the terrible engagement. No such scene was ever before witnessed in America. On Thursday wounded men, mangled horses, crushed bodies, extended so interminably it was impossible to pass through them. Physicians were busy laboring nobly but instruments became blunted and useless and surgeons dropped with fatigue at their posts before a fiftieth part of the work had been done. It will be a week before all can be collected and taken care of. Now the battle is over, it becomes a subject of wonder that the loss on both sides was not even greater. For two days the bullets flew without cessation and passed like a storm of destruction through the woods.

Sutcliffe's Homer Leads
Bullets To 5-2 Win Over
Lafayette; Oppose Navy

A home run by Junior Bruce Sutcliffe, Wayne, N. J., in the top of the fourth inning with two mates aboard gave the Gettysburg College baseball team its third straight win as the Bullets defeated Lafayette 5-2 Saturday afternoon in Easton in a Middle Atlantic Conference University Division game.

Trailing 2-0 going into the fourth, Gettysburg came to bat and produced some of its clutch hitting which has enabled it to carry away several important wins this season. After the first two men filed out, Tom Perkins drew a walk and King Gore lashed a single to left. Sutcliffe then uncorked a 3-1 pitch 315 feet into the center field stands for a four bagger. The three runs put the Bullets in a lead they never lost.

Lafayette started out by scoring a run in each of the first two frames. Ed Morgan led off the first inning by walking. He advanced to second on a passed ball and scored on Joe Gillings' sharp single to center. The Leopards struck again in the second when catcher Marty Shane drilled a line double down the left field foul line. With two out, Morgan then lashed a single to left sending in Shane.

ICE GAME IN 9TH

Gettysburg put the game on ice in the top of the ninth with two more runs. Again with two outs, Gore belted another single to left and Sutcliffe followed with a ground rule double to center driving in Gore. Bob Furney then sent a single to left and the left fielder bobbled the ball allowing Sutcliffe to cross the plate.

The Bullets' defensive game has been an important factor during the last two weeks. The infield has come up with spectacular plays and stabs at line drives and the outfield has continuously robbed batters of extra base blows.

The pitching has also been at its best and Gene Hummel has been getting the most out of his hurlers. Ted Koerner completed his third game in six starts, he allowed eight scattered hits, walked three and struck out six. He is now 3-1 on the season and is sporting a 1.67 earned run average. Tom Kozo started on the hill for the Leopards but needed plenty of help from Dave Becker in the eighth. Kozo, the losing pitcher, is now 2-1 on the season.

Sutcliffe was the big Bullet at the plate with his two safeties in four trips, and four runs batted in. Frank Martin also collected a pair of hits in four at bats, both doubles. Joe Gillings and Ray Moyer paced the host club with two hits each.

Gettysburg will attempt to keep its streak alive when it meets the Middle of the Naval Academy Tuesday afternoon in Annapolis.

NETMEN WIN
FIRST MATCH
SINCE 1959

Bob Hulton's Gettysburg College tennis team came to life by snapping a 23-game losing streak and walloping Elizabethtown 9-0 Saturday afternoon on the loser's courts.

The Bullets, who have been improving with each outing, swept all nine matches and eight of them in two sets each.

Gettysburg's last tennis victory came in May of 1959 when it defeated Elizabethtown 5-4 at Gettysburg. In 1960 it went through a 12-game schedule without winning a match and performed the same feat in 1961 in a nine-game card. The Bullets lost the first two matches of the current season.

Hulton's netmen left little doubt Saturday that they were on their way to making up for lost time. The only match of the afternoon that went more than two sets, was Paul Henry's 2-6, 6-4, 6-3 come-from-behind win over Frank Zimmerman.

Gettysburg, now 1-2 on the season, will attempt to even its record against Bucknell Tuesday afternoon in Lewisburg.

The results:

SINGLES
Rick Savage, G. defeated Mike Keys, 7-5, 6-1; Doug Pincok, G. defeated Mike Honeywell, 6-2, 6-0; Bob Gray, G. defeated Jim Schleicher, 6-0, 6-2; Don Wyker, G. defeated Gail Hizehorth, 6-1, 6-4; Paul Henry, G. defeated Frank Zimmerman, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3; Pete Wright, G. defeated Dave Yost, 6-2, 6-1.

DOUBLES
Savage and Pincok, G. defeated Keys and Schleicher, 6-4, 6-4; Gray and Wright, G. defeated Honeywell and Rizehorth, 6-3, 6-1; Wykes and Johnson, G. defeated Callahan and Casselberry, 6-0, 6-0.

DERBY TO SEE ABOUT DOZEN
RACE HORSES

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Owners and trainers with 3-year-olds eligible for Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs apparently don't care easily—even in face of recent eye-popping performances by Sir Gaylord and Riddan.

Sir Gaylord, unbeaten in four starts this year, and Riddan, all-winning last year and not far off that pace this season, stand out. Still as many as 15 horses are expected to start in the 1 1/4-mile $25,000-added blue ribbon turf classic.

The latest issue of the future book odds from Caliente quoted Sir Gaylord the 7-5 choice with Riddan held at 2-1.

STEPPING STONE
Riddan, beaten twice in Florida by Sir Gaylord before the latter was sidelined by an ankle injury late in February, won the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday in 1:47 3/5 one and one-eighth miles. He then finished out the derby distance in 0:01, two-fifths of a second faster than the derby record hung up by Whirlaway in 1941.

Sir Gaylord, making his first appearance since winning the Everglades at Hialeah Park, reeled off seven furlongs in 1:22 2/5 Saturday in taking the Stepping Stone Purse on the slower Churchill Downs track. He proceeded to work out the derby distance in 2:02 2/5.

Off the two displays of speed and stamina, the 88th run for the roses shapes up as a two-horse race.

DOZEN HORSES
Still there are more than a dozen horses on the ground whose trainers and owners say they are here to run in the derby.

The group includes Townsend B. Martin's speedy but unpredictable Sunrise County, Fred Hooper's Admiral's Voyage, Fred Turner Jr.'s Sir Ribot, Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack, Verne Winchell's Donut King, Peter Salmen Sr.'s Crimson Satan, L. C. Sternberger's Doc Jockey, Robert Lehman's Pregel T. A. Grissom's Roman Line and Joe W. Brown's Green Hornet.

Then there is Cicada, a top-flight filly and stablemate of Sir Gaylord. She won the Oaks prep Saturday at Churchill in even faster time than Sir Gaylord's in the Stepping Stone, going the seven furlongs in 1:22 1/5.

West Virginia QB Is Leaving School

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—Football Coach Gene Corum had the task of finding a new first-line quarterback today after the withdrawal of Fred (Colt) Colvard from West Virginia University.

Colvard, sophomore star of the team last season, said over the weekend he is leaving WVU and may enroll at some other college for summer classes.

The six-foot, 165-pound former Logan High School star indicated he was somewhat upset by not being allowed to play more in the Mountaineers' first spring practice intrasquad game. He also said that when he showed up for a picture-taking session last week, he found that his No. 45 uniform had been given to another player.

Corum announced Saturday he had dropped Colvard from the roster because of his failure to attend recent practice sessions. The coach said he is relying on Jerry Yost of Rogersville, Pa., and Ed Pastilong of Moundsville to compete for the job left vacant by Colvard's departure.

JUNIOR LOOP
HAS 27 HOMERS
TO TIE RECORD

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Boom! Boom! Boom! It looked like the Fourth of July the way those baseballs were being shot out of American League parks Sunday.

A record-tying total of 27 home runs were belted by 23 swat-smiths from the junior circuit, including six solo home runs in one game by the Minnesota Twins, which equaled another league record.

Including the 22 homers walked by the National League, the majors had a grand total of 49, just one shy of the record set by the two leagues on May 30, 1956. The American League mark of 27 was set on May 28, 1961.

YANKS IN FIRST
Three home runs — by Roger Maris, Cletis Boyer and Bill Skowron — helped the New York Yankees sweep a doubleheader from Washington 3-2 and 11-6, and boosted them into first place, a half-game in front of Chicago.

The White Sox hit only one homer in their 2-1 and 5-1 twin bill sweep over Boston's Red Sox but that homer, by rookie Mike Hershberger, accounted for the winning run in the opener.

Minnesota, held homerless in its 8-4 first game victory over Cleveland, went on a six-homer binge, two by Johnny Goryl, to grab the second game, too, 7-3. The defeats dropped the Indians from first to third, a game behind the leaders.

OTHER HOMERS
Detroit defeated Los Angeles 13-6 in a slugfest that featured six home runs, four by the Tigers. Baltimore also had four homers in downing Kansas City 8-3.

Whitey Ford won his second game for the Yankees, going the route in the opener with a seven-hitter. It was his 160th lifetime victory against 63 defeats for a .7174 percentage, top winning average of all pitchers with more than 100 victories.

Early Wynn, 42-year-old White Sox right-hander, pitched a three-hitter in the nightcap for a Chicago sweep of the four-game series with Boston. It was Wynn's first triumph since last July and the 293rd of his career.

MORE HOMERS
Singles by pinch hitter Harmon Killebrew and Bill Tuttle featured a four-run rally by Minnesota in the eighth inning to break up a 4-4 tie with Cleveland in the opener. Tuttle had three hits in the second game including a home run, besides Goryl, were Zoilo Versalles, Lenny Green and Don Mincher.

The Tigers had two big innings — seven runs in the third and five in the fifth — against the Angels as Al Kaline, Dick Brown, Billy Brundage and Jake Wooten homered.

Little Albie Pearson had three consecutive doubles for the Angels, giving him six straight extra base hits in two games and tying a record held by several players.

Baltimore scored six runs in the seventh to overcome a 3-2 Kansas City lead. Russ Snyder opened the inning with a pinch homer. Jim Gentile also homered in the inning, his second off the game.

PALMER TAKES TEXAS OPEN

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer slammed a 7-iron 170 yards within 18 inches of the cup on the 18th hole in another of his dramatic finishes Sunday.

He sank the birdie putt and became the first man to win the $30,000 Texas Open three years in a row.

It was Palmer's third birdie on the four closing holes and it gave him a four-under-par 67 and 273 for 72 holes for a one-stroke triumph.

Palmer won his greatest victories by coming from behind and the huge crowd on the 18th green sensed he had won although two mighty contenders for the title—Gene Littler and Joe Campbell—were yet to come in.

EARNINGS UP
Palmer won his fourth tournament of the year and ran his money earnings to $41,308.33.

Littler, the National Open champion, who had taken a two-stroke lead for 63 holes, faded on the incoming nine and wound up in a tie for second with Campbell, Doug Sanders and Mason Rudolph.

Littler had a 69, Campbell 70, Sanders 69 and Rudolph a 67 on the final 18. All ended up with 274 for 72 holes.

Palmer, who took down first money of $4,300, has won 30 tournaments in his 7 1/2-years career.

WIN STOCK CAR RACES
NEWBERRYTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Bobby Gerhart and Rich Christine won the featured races Sunday at the Susquehanna Speedway, Gerhart won the 25-lap modified stock car race, followed by Ed Ortiz. Christine won the 20-lap feature for strictly stock cars, followed by Gene Nauman.

Baker received his plaudits after the Whites, with Coates in command, upset the Blues in the annual Blue-White game, 19-6.

Coates was at the helm in scoring drives of 49 and 65 yards. He scored the third touchdown on a run of five yards.

JUNIOR PROM
IS CONDUCTED ON SATURDAY

"Oriental Gardens" was the theme of the evening for the annual Junior-Senior prom of the Littlestown High School held in the high school cafeteria Saturday night. Approximately 150 Juniors, Seniors, their guests, faculty and their guests were in attendance.

Those present at the affair entered the room by crossing a garden bridge. The decorations featured a large dragon, a pagoda and a small garden. Music for dancing was provided by "The Starlight Three." Refreshments were served by 10th Grade students, dressed in Oriental attire. The affair was in charge of the Junior Class, Mrs. Rachael Barclay and Richard D. Thomas, faculty advisors.

Members of the Littlestown Fish and Game Association are asked to help plant Scotch pine trees at the Fish and Game farm this evening at 6 o'clock.

GUEST MINISTER

Rev. Nevil M. Kirk, pastor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Westminster, was the guest minister for the Sunday morning worship service in Redeemer's United Church of Christ. Rev. Glenn Finchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's Church, and Rev. Mr. Kirk had a pulpit exchange. An anthem "All Is Well," Wilson, was sung by the Senior Choir, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. George A. A Lovelier
You

By MARY SUE MILLER
DISFIGURING FAULT. How trim is your abdomen? Unless it is flat and firm, today's message is for you!

Make up your mind now to slim down and tighten up. No other figure fault is quite so disfiguring as a pudgy, lax abdomen. It ages a woman by a good 10 years. In a teen it looks like what doing mothers call "baby fat." Other people put it down, however, to overeating and poor posture. And they are right. Both habits cause the problem at any age.

There are four ways to overcome it: 1. Pull up in the abdomen when you sit and stand. Keep at it until the action become automatic.

2. Wear a girdle with a controlling front panel with everything you wear, even pants. It will assist your posture effort and, of course, it immediately improves appearances.

3. Perform this slimming exercise daily: Lie face down on floor, with legs together and stretched downward; clasp hands behind body and rest them on buttocks; pull in abdomen. Simultaneously raise head, shoulder and legs—hold for five slow counts. Slowly return to starting position. Repeat 10 times.

4. If you are generally overweight, combine the other measures with a sensible diet. For teens that means limiting sweets and fats. Adults respond to well-balanced fare, totalling 1,200 calories per day.

Start today—and in sixty days you'll carve a shape that's fit to wear a bikini drape. (Not that you might want to, but it's nice to know you could!)

METS SHAKING SLUMP; TAKE TWO IN ROW

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
It should have happened in Brooklyn. The Mets-Phillies game, that is, Dizzy as the Dodgers at their daffiest. The only thing lacking was Casey Stengel letting a sparrow out of his cap.
That was the fourth inning of the New York Mets' first game with Philadelphia Sunday. New York got seven runs on four hits, two hit batters, a wild pitch, two errors, a stolen base, a sacrifice fly and some incredible Philadelphia play field.
It put the Mets off and winging to an "O" triumph that extended their winning string to two. The streak was halted in the nightcap when the Phillies bombed Casey's boys 10-2.

MUSIAL SHRINES
In a more sober affair at St. Louis, Sam Musial went 5-for-6 with two homers as St. Louis split with Cincinnati, the Cards taking the first 16-3, the Reds the second 4-3. In San Francisco, Jack Sanford and Billy Pierce had three-hit shutouts as the Giants swept two from Chicago, 7-0 and 6-0. In Los Angeles, Pittsburgh regained the top spot with a sweep against the Dodgers, 6-1 and 1-0. In Houston, Roman Mejias' 13th inning homer brought the Colts a 3-2 decision over Milwaukee.

The Mets' fourth inning was as weird as Frankenstein and complicated as a Russian novel. It featured, among other things, the Mets putting two runners on third at the same time.
THREE HOME RUNS
When it was over, the Mets had seven runs and rookie Al Jackson, who spaced eight hits, had his first victory. Homeruns by Tony Gonzalez, Don Demeter and Wes Covington featured the angered Phils 14-hit attack off four New York pitchers in the second game, Bobby Locke, who allowed only one hit over 4 2-3 innings, got the victory in relief.

Vada Pinson and Gordy Coleman of the Reds and Musial socked home runs in each game at St. Louis, Musial's big day, boosted his average to .396.

The Cardinal loss and the sweeps by Pittsburgh and San Francisco dropped St. Louis from first to third.

Pittsburgh took over first on the pitching of Bob Friend (4-1) and Al McBean (3-0). Friend threw a four-hitter at the Dodgers in the first and McBean shut them out on seven hits in the second.

Ed Bailey's home run and three San Francisco double plays supported Pierce's three-hitter against the Cubs. Willie Mays crashed his sixth homer of the season with a man on base, all the working room Sanford needed in his opening three-hitter.

Mejias' fourth homer of the season broke a 2-2 tie and won it in the bottom of the ninth for the Colts. Hal Smith and Jim Pendleton also had homers for the winners, and Frank Bolling got one for the Braves. Dick Farrell, who faced only one man after relieving starter Hal Woodeschick in the ninth, got the victory.

DRAKE RELAYS BEST PENN

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The comparison of times and distances between the annual Drake and Penn track and field meets this year results in two definite conclusions: Drake had the speed and Penn the muscle.

A check of summaries from both meets in this annual figure-filbert field day shows Drake competitors bettered their Penn counterparts, 11 to 7. Ten of Drake's superior performances were in the running events, while six of Penn's toppers were in field events.

Taking the track events first, Florida A&M's sophomore sensation, Bob Hayes, turned in a 9.3 second 100-yard dash as against 9.7 for the Penn winner, Dennis Richardson of Abilene Christian. Houston's Pat Clohessy won the Drake 2-mile run in 8:59.6, while Drake Norse of Duke needed 9:11.3 at Philadelphia.

In the only other comparative individual competition, Ray Cunningham of Texas was clocked in 13.9 at Drake for the 120-yard high hurdles, while Penn's only double winner, Russ Rogers of Maryland State leaped and ran the same distance in 14.2.

Penn runners bettered Drake figures in only one of the relay races, the 880, in which Villanova's quartet of Pat Nicastro, Paul Drayton, Bob Raemore and Frank Budd, negotiated the distance in 1:25, as against 1:25.3 at Drake for Florida A&M.

Moves 400 Miles As Time Saver

LONDON (AP) — John Wheatley has moved 400 miles away to Scotland so that he can get to work in London quicker.

Wheatley, a senior pilot for British Overseas Airways, used to take two hours to drive the 35 miles of crowded roads from his suburban home to London airport.

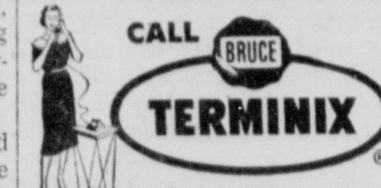

He moved to the village of Midsen in Ayrshire and now drives 15 miles to Prestwick Airport. There he catches a flight to London Airport. His total traveling time is 75 minutes — a saving of 45 minutes.

Cardinal Scolds Polish Officials

GNEZNO, Poland (AP) — Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski again has openly criticized Polish authorities, charging Communist youth programs violate freedom of worship.

The Roman Catholic primate of Poland in a sermon Sunday also accused officials of this 1,000-year-old central Polish town of inhospitality. He said they had ignored history by diverting the age-old annual procession of St. Adalbert, Catholicism's first patron saint of Poland, from the main street to the side streets.

Some 8,000 worshippers braved a cold drizzle to follow the hymn-singing procession of nuns, bishops, archbishops and Cardinal Wyszynski through the streets for an open-air Mass before 980-year-old Gniezno cathedral, the first Catholic cathedral in Poland.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Not even $125,000 bonus baby Lew Krauss can shrug off Binghamton's big jinx.

Call it beginner's luck, or whatever you want, but Elmira, a new entry in the Class A Eastern League, has taken four straight games from Binghamton, including a 7-5 victory Sunday with Krauss being charged with the loss.

The victory put Elmira in a first place tie with Williamsport which dropped a 6-3 game to Charleston. In the only other game, York beat Springfield 7-4. Krauss, the right-hander from Chester, Pa., sent down from Kansas City for more experience, seemed headed for his second victory Sunday instead of his first loss.

TIED IN NINTH

Binghamton held a 5-3 lead after eight innings. Krauss had struck out nine and allowed only six hits. But he tied in the ninth and an error didn't help any.

Second baseman Ossie Chavarria muffed an easy pop fly which put Elmira's Jim Liggett on first.

Break Ground For Church

Ground was broken Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the new Church of the Nazarene to be located on the corner of Windbriar Lane and Rt. 116. Pictured from left to right are Olan Young, director of youth; Lawrence Haines, superintendent of the Sunday School; Dr. Ernest E. Grosse, Washington district superintendent; Rev. Weston Chambers, pastor of the local church, and Rev. John L. Parry, pastor of the Hanover Nazarene Church. Construction will begin soon.

British Driver Is Recovering Well

LONDON (AP) — Auto racer Stirling Moss, slowly recovering consciousness following a race crash six days ago, mumbled a few unintelligible words from his hospital bed Sunday.

"It was very difficult to understand what he said because his mouth is so swollen," said his mother. "But he is definitely brighter."

Moss was conscious enough to clutch at a glass of milk and appeared to show signs of recognizing the bedside circle of family and friends.

A man whose normal weight is 150 pounds would weigh about 50 pounds if all the water in his system were dried up.

The victory in relief, John Pregoner 0-1 was the loser.

Dedicate Library To Eisenhower

ABILENE, Kan.—Dedication of the $3 million Eisenhower Library here Tuesday will bring a reunion of the former President and two of his three brothers.

Former U. S. Sen. Harry Darby, who will preside at dedication ceremonies, said Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and Earl Eisenhower, La Grange, Ill., will be here.

"I don't think Edgar Eisenhower, who lives on the west coast, is coming," Darby said.

Two other Eisenhower brothers, Roy and Arthur, are dead.

Dedication festivities will begin this evening with a reception for visiting dignitaries who will include former President Harry S. Truman and several members of the Eisenhower cabinet. Former President Herbert Hoover sent regrets, explaining his physicians forbade the trip.

General and Mrs. Eisenhower are enroute by train to Abilene. They are accompanied by General Eisenhower's military aide, Col. Robert L. Schulz.

Accepting the charter was James T. Cantrell, president of the unit, organized under the sponsorship of the Marshall County Jaycee organization. Cantrell is serving a life sentence for murder.

METS SHAKING SLUMP; TAKE TWO IN ROW

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It should have happened in Brooklyn. The Mets-Phillies game, that is, Dizzy at the Dodgers at their daffiest. The only thing lacking was Casey Stengel letting a sparrow out of his cap.

That was the fourth inning of the New York Mets' first game with Philadelphia Sunday. New York got seven runs on four hits, two hit batters, a wild pitch, two errors, a stolen base, a sacrifice fly and some incredible Philadelphia play afield.

It put the Mets off and winging to an 8-0 triumph that extended their winning string to two. The streak was halted in the nightcap when the Phillies bombed Casey's boys 10-2.

MUSIAL SHRINES

In a more sober affair at St. Louis, Sam Musial went 5-for-8 with two homers as St. Louis split with Cincinnati, the Reds the second 10-3. In San Francisco, Jack Sanford and Billy Pierce had three-hit shutouts as the Giants swept two from Chicago, 7-0 and 6-0. In Los Angeles, Pittsburgh regained the top spot with a sweep against the Dodgers, 6-1 and 1-0. In Houston, Roman Mejias' ninth inning homer brought the Colts a 2-2 decision over Milwaukee.

The Mets' fourth inning was as weird as Frankenstein and complicated as a Russian novel. It featured, among other things, the Mets putting two runners on third at the same time.

THREE HOME RUNS

When it was over, the Mets had seven runs and rookie Al Jackson, who spaced eight hits, had his first victory. Homeruns by Tony Gonzalez, Don Demeter and Wes Covington featured the angered Phils 14-hit attack off four New York pitchers in the second game. Bobby Locke, who allowed only one hit over 4-2-3 innings, got the victory in relief.

Vada Pinson and Gordy Coleman of the Reds and Musial socked home runs in each game at St. Louis, Musial's big day, boosted his average to .396.

The Cardinals' loss and the sweeps by Pittsburgh and San Francisco dropped St. Louis from first to third.

Pittsburgh took over first on the pitching of Bob Friend (4-1) and Al McBean (3-0). Friend threw a four-hitter at the Dodgers in the first and McBean shut them out on seven hits in the second.

Ed Bailey's home run and three San Francisco double plays supported Pierce's three-hitter against the Cubs. Willie Mays crashed his sixth homer of the season with a man on base, all the working room Sanford needed in his opening three-hitter.

Mejias' fourth homer of the season broke a 2-2 tie and won it in the bottom of the ninth for the Colts Hal Smith and Jim Pendleton also had homers for the winners, and Frank Bolling got one for the Braves. Dick Farrell, who faced only one man after relieving starter Hal Woodeschick in the ninth, got the victory.

Cardinal Scolds Polish Officials

GNIEZNO, Poland (AP) — Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski again has openly criticized Polish authorities, charging Communist youth programs violate freedom of worship.

The Roman Catholic primate of Poland in a sermon Sunday also accused officials of this 1,000-year-old central Polish town of inhospitality. He said they had ignored history by diverting the age-old annual procession of St. Adalbert, Catholicism's first patron saint of Poland, from the main street to the side streets.

Some 8,000 worshippers braved a cold drizzle to follow the hymn-singing procession of nuns, bishops, archbishops and Cardinal Wyszynski through the streets for an open-air Mass before 980-year-old Gniezno cathedral, the first Catholic cathedral in Poland.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Not even $125,000 bonus baby Lou Krausse can shrug off Binghamton's big jinx.

Call it beginner's luck, or whatever you want, but Elmira, a new entry in the Class A Eastern League, has taken four straight games from Binghamton, including a 7-5 victory Sunday with Krausse being charged with the loss.

The victory put Elmira in a first place tie with Williamsport which dropped a 6-3 game to Charleston. In the only other game, York beat Springfield 7-4.

Krausse, the right-hander from Chester, Pa., sent down from Kansas City for more experience, seemed headed for his second victory Sunday instead of his first loss.

TIED IN NINTH

Binghamton led a 5-3 lead after eight innings. Krausse had struck out nine and allowed only six hits. But he lived in the ninth and an error didn't help any.

Second baseman Ossie Chavarria muffed an easy pop fly which sent Elmira's Jim Liggitt on first.

Then Krausse walked the next two batters. Manager Granny Hamner pulled the youngster in favor of Steve Hincckley. John Griffin, pinchhitting for reliever Roger Kudron, greeted Hincckley with a home run over the center-field fence. Kudron (2-0) got the victory.

Charleston bombed four Williamsport pitchers for 15 hits, including three doubles and Jose Villar's first homer of the year, in the Indians' first home victory. The game was delayed for an hour and 36 minutes by a third-inning shower. Ron Schamp (1-1) got the victory but reliever Tommy Gansauer preserved it with a one-hit performance over the final 3 1/3 innings. Dave Getz (1-1) was the loser.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

Five errors led to Springfield's downfall including a two-base error by outfielder Dick Pawlow with two out in the ninth which opened the way for three runs that broke a 4-4 tie and won for York. Jim Williams' single sent home what proved to be the winning run. Doug Gentry (1-0) got the victory in relief. John Pregoner (0-1) was the loser.

British Driver Is Recovering Well

LONDON (AP) — Auto racer Stirling Moss, slowly recovering consciousness following a race crash six days ago, mumbled a few unintelligible words from his hospital bed Sunday.

"It was very difficult to understand what he said because his mouth is so swollen," said his mother. "But he is definitely brighter."

Moss was conscious enough to clutch at a glass of milk and appeared to show signs of recognizing the bedside circle of family and friends.

A man whose normal weight is 150 pounds would weigh about 50 pounds if all the water in his system were dried up.

The victory in relief, John Pregoner (0-1) was the loser.

Dedicate Library To Eisenhower

ABILENE, Kan.—Dedication of the $3 million Eisenhower Library here Tuesday will bring a reunion of the former President and two of his three brothers.

Former U. S. Sen. Harry Darby, who will preside at dedication ceremonies, said Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and Earl Eisenhower, La Grange, Ill., will be here.

"I don't think Edgar Eisenhower, who lives on the west coast, is coming," Darby said.

Two other Eisenhower brothers, Roy and Arthur, are dead.

Dedication festivities will begin this evening with a reception for visiting dignitaries who will include former President Harry S. Truman and several members of the Eisenhower cabinet. Former President Herbert Hoover sent regrets, explaining his physicians forbade the trip.

A class of 27 children, consisting of 11 boys and 16 girls, received their First Holy Communion on Sunday at the 7:30 a.m. Mass in St. Aloysius Catholic Church. The Rev. Dr. John E. Metz, pastor, officiated. The class included Lawrence Shrader, Henry Redding, Jerome Ozminski, Patrick Ozminski, Kenneth Kuhns, James McSherry, Keith Sentz, William Pfaff, Michael Sanders, Stephen Showmaker, Michael Azzarello, Elaine Bevenour, Cecilia Sanders, Ellen Brodie, Melissa Keagy, Loretta Crabbs, Mariann Keefe, Victoria Kuhn, Jacquelin Riley, Kathie Kerns, Judy Krichen, Kathy May, Rita Yingling, Bonnie Althoff, Deborah Morgret, Peggy Offutt and Elizabeth Winderloft. Leader for the boys was James Klunk and for the girls, Brenda Shrader, of the First Grade. The children were prepared for their First Holy Communion by the First and Second Grade teacher, Sister Mary Alfreda. They made their first confession on Friday, when the Rev. Dr. Metz spoke to them and also invested them in the scapular of Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

During the Mass, the following hymns were sung by the girls of the upper classes of the parochial school, with Miss Anna C. Weaver at the console: "Dear Angel, Ever At My Side," "Regina Coeli," "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "Jesus, Jesus, Come to Me."

There will be religious instructions for Junior and Senior High School students this evening at 7 o'clock. Daily Mass during May will be at 8:15 a.m., including the First Friday Mass, and there will also be an evening Mass at 7:30 on Friday. St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women will hold a food sale on Friday at 2 p.m. in the Alpha engine house. The weekly public party will be held on Saturday at 8:15 p.m. when general arrangements are in charge of Thomas G. French and Mrs. B. Roy Kebab will head the refreshment committee.

Father Metz spoke briefly on the progress of the church decorations, noting that all the stained glass windows have been placed the new and the restored ones and the ceiling and wall decorations begun. Members of the congregation were invited to visit the church on Sunday, but the doors will remain locked during the week when the decorators are working from the scaffolding.

Renee Marie Duttera, infant daughter of Thomas and Jean Wolf Duttera, Lumber St., was baptized on Sunday morning in St. Aloysius Church by Father Metz. The child was born April 21 at the Hanover Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lawrence were the baptismal sponsors.

49 Nobel Prize Winners Guests At White House

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy toasted his 173 dinner guests—Nobel Prize winners and men and women of letters—as the most extraordinary collection of talent ever gathered at the White House.

He called them all together Sunday night—a potpourri of the famed—to honor the Nobel Prize winners of the Western Hemisphere.

The 49 Nobel winners on hand for the biggest dinner held at the White House in modern times greeted each other with delight. They said no one before had ever thought to bring so many of them together at once.

ONE HAD PICKETED

In gay, good humor, some started after-dinner waltzing in the north entrance hallway where Air Force musicians were playing.

One of the first to take a turn in black tie on the marble floor was Dr. Linus C. Pauling, Nobel Prize winning chemist who only hours before was picketing the White House in the rain with a group protesting resumption of U.S. nuclear air tests.

Dancing usually is confined to the East ballroom. Mrs. Kennedy, looking on with amusement at the impromptu display, declared it was a good idea and said, "We'll have to do this again."

Many of the guests—famed in fields from physics to peace—stopped the President and his wife to ask for autographs on their engraved dinner menus.

CHAMPAGNE TOAST

There were some who had never before set foot in the White House. There was astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., only recently fêted there as the nation's hero—the first American to orbit the earth.

The President, raising his glass in a champagne toast, told his guests that the dinner party in a sense was an attempt to recognize two very basic drives and pressures in our lives—"the pursuit of knowledge and the pursuit of peace."

He said he hoped it would encourage young people in America and in this hemisphere to develop rentals were $596.50. Insurance cost $673.28; electric service, $1-185.62. Other miscellaneous expenses made up the remainder of the $12,259.25 cost.

RE-ELECT KNOUSE

At the annual election, Mr. Knouse was re-elected president, W. Clayton Jester, vice president; Wayne Criswell, secretary-treasurer; Harry McDannell and Wayne Criswell were appointed to the grounds committee.

The resignation of Dale Welker as caretaker was reported and the grounds committee was authorized to appoint a new caretaker.

All committees were renamed "same as in 1961" with two exceptions. Mrs. Cameron Hoffman was appointed chairman of needlework to succeed Mrs. Walter Frederick. Earl Carey was appointed flower chairman succeeding Mrs. John Hartlaub.

NO HORSE SHOW

The South Mountain Rangers announced that they will not donate their usual $50 this year, but instead will repair the small building at the horse show ring, replace boards around the ring as needed and paint the entire ring and building with white paint.

Following a discussion, the directors decided to discontinue the horse show "because of lack of interest." The board decided to ask the 4-H Light Horse and Pony Club to take over the Saturday afternoon program at the fair.

these drives.

TOUCH OF HUMOR

Noting that the Nobel Prize was awarded without regard to nationality, Kennedy declared "this hemisphere has been able to develop an atmosphere which has permitted the happy pursuit of knowledge, and of peace."

Kennedy started his toast with a touch of humor. He reported that Nobel peace prize winner Lester Pearson of Canada had informed him a Canadian newspaperman referred to the dinner as "the President's Easter egg-head roll on the White House lawn."

"I want to deny this," said the President.

When he called it the most extraordinary gathering of talent at the White House, Kennedy added lightly—"with the possible exception of when Thomas Jefferson dined alone."

A six-foot high crucifix of "Christ, the King," carved by Mrs. Amelia N. Russell, daughter of a former pastor of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church here, was blessed and consecrated at Sunday morning services by Rt. Rev. John Heistand, bishop of Harrisburg. Mrs. Russell, daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Thurlow W. Null, took six years to carve the "memorial to her father" as a "symbol that a living Christ still reigns." The crucifix was placed at the apex of the arch of the chancel. On the left is Bishop Heistand and on the right, Rev. J. Harold Mowen, pastor of the church. (Lane Studio) organ played "Trumpet Voluntary."

A reception followed in the Student Union building as the final formal event in the day's inaugural program.

The events had begun with a symposium at 10 a.m. in Christ Chapel on "Perspectives in Liberal Learning." Dr. Richard T. Mara, chairman of the department of physics at the college, presided and the speakers were John Summerskill, vice president for the student affairs at Cornell, and Paul L. Holmer of the Yale Divinity School. They discussed the motives and values of the liberated mind.

The inaugural luncheon was held in the college dining hall at noon with Dr. Charles H. Glatfelter, dean of Gettysburg College, presiding. Greetings were brought from the community by Mayor William W. Weaver; from the alumni association by its president, Lavern H. Brennehan; for the Woman's League by its president, Mrs. H. L. Crist; from the church by Rev. George F. Harkins, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America; from the student body by Brian Bennett, president of the Student Senate; and from the faculty by Dr. Edwin D. Freed, chairman of the faculty's executive committee.

Dr. Hanson is the successor to Lt. Gen. Willard S. Paul, who resigned the college presidency last year because of his health. He had served five years.

The new president is a native of Akron, a graduate of the University of Chicago and got his Ph.D. from Cornell. He had been at Cornell since 1948 until coming here last fall. He served as a professor and then director of resident instruction of the New York School of Industrial and Labor Relations. He was dean of the university faculty since 1957. He served as a naval officer during World War II.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Former world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson Sunday married his fiancée, Birgit Lundgren.

After the wedding the couple left for Geneva where they will spend the next month and where Ingemar will continue his training for a match against European champion Dick Richardson.

Birgit, a comely blonde, accompanied Ingemar on his three trips to the United States for title fights with Floyd Patterson.

Johansson now is in the midst of a comeback and is scheduled to try for the European heavyweight title in his next fight.

TOUCH OF HUMOR

Noting that the Nobel Prize was awarded without regard to nationality, Kennedy declared "this hemisphere has been able to develop an atmosphere which has permitted the happy pursuit of knowledge, and of peace."
Kennedy started his toast with a touch of humor. He reported that Nobel peace prize winner Lester Pearson of Canada had informed him a Canadian newspaperman referred to the dinner as "the President's Easter egg-head roll on the White House lawn."
"I want to deny this," said the President.
When he called it the most extraordinary gathering of talent at the White House, Kennedy added lightly—"with the possible exception of when Thomas Jefferson dined alone."

Gen. Montgomery Delivers Americanism Address At Elks Youth Day Program

The following is the complete text of Major General Richard Montgomery, assistant chief of staff of the Air Force, at the fourth annual Elks Youth Day program here Saturday:

The same courage that was demonstrated on the battlefields of Gettysburg one hundred years ago soon will take men into the far reaches of the universe. Future historians will report the adventures in aerospace of explorers still in school today — some of them perhaps among you high school students here now.

Your generation will be the leaders of our future. Whether it brings us freedom or enslavement, our future will be determined in space. We all need to realize that he who controls space can control the earth just as in past centuries the nations that controlled the seas dominated continents.

The present day aggressor commands a fearful potential for destruction. Now he can launch atomic and thermo-nuclear weapons from his own territory into the heartland of any nation on earth.

Such thoughts bring home the vital role that space will play.

NOT A STUNT
Some people regard our coming lunar expedition simply as a stunt to enhance our nation's prestige... like winning an Olympic championship. The true fact is that such ventures are attempts to breach new frontiers of knowledge which we must have if the free world is to survive.

Major Robert M. White accelerated beyond Mach 6 in flying the X-15 to an altitude of 217,000 feet and to a speed record of 4,093 miles per hour. What we want to learn from the X-15 is not how fast or high we can fly, but rather the answers to aerodynamic heating, control and re-entry problems, as well as man's psychological and physiological behavior in space.

Never before has the maxim "Knowledge is Power" been truer than it is today. The fact that the Soviet people are not well or truly informed in no way affects communism's long range ambitions to rule the world and enslave all people.

TIME SHRINKING
I believe that the phrase "pressure of time" expresses one of the over-riding facts of the period we live in. Time has been shrinking rapidly. It took man perhaps 100,000 years to develop the war club. Armies used to march forward at a rate of about 10 miles a day. You had ample warning time then, as we did also when our national defense policies were based upon our great ocean barriers. These assured the United States of a considerable period of grace when danger threatened. And when the principal enemy threat to our shores became long range airpower, we could still figure our reaction time in terms of hours. Today ballistic missiles have reduced warning time to 15 minutes.

without delay to the very summit where they went immediately into battle."

There also was the report of a reconnaissance failure when General J. E. B. Stuart's cavalry lost contact with the main Confederate forces. Here the history stated: "The eyes and ears of Lee thus were closed at a time when their efficient function was badly needed."

ADMIRER OF LEE
The item that interested me most of all in that history was one illustrating the high courage and true integrity displayed by General Lee, whom I have always admired. Perhaps you saw on your tour of the Battlefields the spot called The Angle where Pickett's men staged their famous charge, only to be repulsed.

As the men struggled back toward the Confederate lines, General Lee rode out to meet them and said:

"All this has been my fault. It is I that have lost this fight."

That was the statement of a courageous man. Only a very brave man could stand up to disaster like that and assume the whole responsibility on his own shoulders.

So many refuse to admit failure or fault, refuse to assume responsibility. They think only of themselves first, last and always. They alibi hoodlumism saying "boys will be boys" or "youth must have its fling."

FAITH IN YOUTH
We hear much these days about juvenile delinquency; but I submit to you that delinquency — the lack of high motivation and strong integrity — is not the besetting sin of the young alone.

I don't believe that only white hair denotes wisdom and the capacity for true leadership. I am sure that many of you young people have both in the ample quantity and high quality required to produce the leaders we can depend upon for the future.

These people will have to be specially qualified to lead in the age of increasingly complex technology. They will have to possess outstanding character, the highest of motivation. Not only must they be thoroughly educated, fully trained, but also they must have a greater capacity for leadership than ever required of men before them.

This raises a point I would like to stress to you high school students. I think you can see from what I have said that we require thoroughly trained people with very good education. My point is this: Don't drop out of school. In this day and age your education should never end. I am sure the officials of Gettysburg College here present agree with me that you just can't be too well educated.

CONSTANT EDUCATION
The military officer of today continues his formal education throughout his entire service career. He never stops learning through schooling. I graduated from the Military Academy at West Point in 1933 but I did not complete my post graduate course at the Air War College until 15 years later.

Scarcely a year has gone by since then that I haven't attended one course or another that keeps me up-to-date on my professional knowledge. You should never stop learning.

The unskilled laborer has practically no opportunity to progress. Both the military and the commercial businesses are finding him less and less employable. Become a skilled expert, not an unskilled unemployable. And keep on studying and learning as long as you live.

While you are still in high school you must plan your undergraduate college career. And here let me suggest that the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs is one of the best.

The mission of the Air Force Academy is to develop career officers through its academic, professional military training and athletic programs. The Academy has the nation's first undergraduate Department of Astronautics and is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

189 SEMESTER HOURS
The Academy curriculum totals 189 semester hours as opposed to about 130 in liberal arts colleges and 145 in engineering schools. The question often is asked: How can our cadets complete such unusually high requirements and in addition participate in all the command training and other practical cadet experiences that help give them the background of a professional officer?

One answer is that the Air Force Academy really has the equivalent of a five-year program, for our cadets go to school 11 months a year instead of the usual eight and one half or nine. Another is the intensive nature of the Academy's program.

Robert Maynard Hutchins, former president and later chancellor of the University of Chicago, once said that if college students could be induced to put in a real eight-hour day the effect would revolutionize higher education. Our Air Force Academy students do just this as they work for their Bachelor of Science degrees and their commissions as second lieutenants. They normally carry about two hours per semester more than civilian students in addition to intensive military training.

OTHER COURSES
The academic curriculum alone adds up to 146½ semester hours about evenly divided between science and engineering subjects and the social sciences and humanities. In addition there are the military training program of 27 semester hours and the intensive athletic program of 13 semester hours.

Other courses include light plane orientation flying, pilot and navigator indoctrination and — to let the student advance academically as fast and as far as he can — there are the elective courses in the curriculum enrichment program for gifted students and those who have completed college-level courses in other institutions.

But I think the main lure I would hold out to you for the Air Force Academy is its Honor Code.

HONOR COMMITTEE
The cadets themselves determine its ethics and enforce them and the Air Force backs them up. Breaches of the code, determined by a Cadet Honor Committee, lead to dismissal.

The code is deceptively simple — we will not lie, cheat or steal, nor tolerate among us those who do. By accepting the code's strict demands the new cadet soon discovers he has obtained a seldom found freedom — the freedom of absolute trust.

Cadet judgment of the code ranges from "very effective" to "the best thing at the Academy" — and such opinions include those of cadets leaving the Academy for honor violations.

Upon graduation from the Academy the new second lieutenants are prepared to enter upon lifetime careers as Air Force officers. Their schooling can be enriched by both professional education and graduate university level studies as they grow in stature, maturity and responsibility.

HAVE OPEN MINDS
Our future leaders must have open minds and strong bodies disciplined to hard work and long hours. They must be adaptable, flexible, industrious, open-minded.

The closed mind is a dead mind. These people are the unteachable. In the past they insisted the world was flat, not round. That this earth was the center of creation, not an infinitesimal grain of sand in an infinite universe. They said heavier-than-air flight was impossible. Later, they insisted that the airplane would never replace the horse for reconnaissance, then that the aircraft carrier would never supplant the battleship.

The open mind filled with curiosity is alive and alert. A good example is Werner von Braun who constructed his first home-made rockets from junk he picked up in an old, World War I munitions dump. He hated mathematics, in fact flunked the subject in school. "But," he said recently, "when I found I'd have to learn math if I wanted to put a rocket into space, I learned math."

SEEK NEW CONCEPTS
From such minds come our new concepts of aerospace and the hardware they produce. We must be willing to search for new concepts, to consider them whenever they appear, even though they be dim and dark, out of focus, when first we glimpse them.

Without question you young people face the greatest challenge, the greatest opportunity the world has ever known. Today we are in about the same position in aerospace as the Wright Brothers were 60 years ago when they graduated from kites and gliders to fly the first powered, heavier-than-air plane.

Today's young people stand on the threshold of space travel in manned, powered, controlled vehicles. If there are others living out there in space, races perhaps more intelligent and advanced than we humans, your generation will be the first to meet these beings.

Space travel first appealed to the fancy of only the science fiction reader. But already it has captured the imagination of the world.

INTENSE INTEREST
The Associated Press reported that dinners turned cold on the tables in Europe, that ale went flat in the pubs of England while people everywhere listened to radio reports of Lt. Colonel Glenn's orbital flight.

This is the kind of intense, international attention the aerospace pioneers already receive. From such pioneers will come the exploring heroes of the future. From such pioneers will come the exploring heroes of the future. From such pioneers will come the exploring heroes of the future.

But this involves accepting responsibilities of the same magnitude. You also can contribute more than any man before you. Let us never forget — any one of us — that we owe our country a great debt for having been born here... for the privilege of living in a liberty loving society which others founded and passed on to us, after they had fought and bled and many of them died that we might be free from tyranny.

CONCLUDE LIBERTY
Among those in whom self-interest has gained ascendancy, the word "patriotism" has fallen into disrepute. There even are some who scorn the words God and church and country and family, some who blindly have confused liberty with license.

Leadership is not for such as these. It is not for the free loader, the gold brick, or for people looking for personal glory, prestige. Don't put your patriotism in the "pending" basket. The future belongs to the strongly dedicated, the highly motivated; people who, to paraphrase an ancient and highly honored statement, come to serve, not to be served.

President Kennedy knew whereof he spoke when he told us, "Ask not what your country can do for you, ask, rather, what you can do for your country."

This is the final thought I would leave with you.
